

Ike Will Speak This Evening In Los Angeles

Tells Dulles to Continue Journey
Despite Red Attack

Denver —P— President Eisenhower flies to Los Angeles today for a campaign speech billed by aides as a hard-hitting effort to bolster Republican candidates plagued by a party split.

A few hours before his departure, the president instructed Secretary of State Dulles to continue his trip to Formosa despite ending of the Chinese communist cease-fire in the Quemoy beach area.

Eisenhower and Dulles held a pre-dawn telephone conversation. Dulles called the president from Fairbanks, Alaska.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower and Dulles agreed that "it would be useful for the secretary of state to continue this visit to Formosa on this peaceful mission."

Major Political Fight
Resuming a 5,300-mile cross-country tour after a quiet weekend, the president was pictured as ready to shift gears and do some plugging during a 2-day visit in California. The state is one of the nation's major political battlegrounds this year.

Eisenhower's half-hour speech tonight at the shrine auditorium in Los Angeles at 8:30 p.m., PST will be carried on television and radio over an 11-state western network. Tomorrow morning he will make two speeches in San Francisco before traveling on to Chicago.

If Eisenhower does go to a scrapping role in California it will be the first time since he left Washington last Friday on a 6-day vote hunting tour. In Iowa his speech was only indirectly political, and in Kansas and Colorado he made no talks whatever.

The GOP candidates in those two states had to be satisfied with not much more than photographs with the president. In Colorado there was even a hassle over those that left the state Republican organization miffed.

Met By Democrat
On Eisenhower's arrival in Denver Saturday for a visit with his ailing mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud, the first to greet him at the airport was Colorado's Democratic Gov. Stephen McNichols. His wife and their five photogenic children. The GOP candidate for governor, Palmer Burch, was almost lost in the shuffle some distance back in the receiving line.

Then the Republican state chairman, Richard H. Shaw, got into an argument with White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty over Shaw's insistence the president pose for pictures at the airport with several GOP candidates. The pictures weren't taken until later in the day—in private at Eisenhower's hotel.

The high court ordered the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia to reconsider its approval of the FCC's reassignment of the channels.

Quads Born To Couple in Richmond, Va.

Richmond, Va. —P— The wife of a $65-a-week public works department employee gave birth to quadruplets at a Richmond hospital today.

Hospital spokesmen said the children are alive and apparently well. They are in incubators.

The quadruplets, two boys and two girls, were born to Mrs. Laura Englehart, 34, of nearby Sandston. She had six other children, three by a previous marriage.

Edward G. Englehart, the father, 32, is a heavy duty sweeper operator with the Richmond Public Works department.

Englehart said he took his wife to Johnston-Willis hospital yesterday about 9:45 p.m. He remained at the hospital until 3 a.m. today and received word of the births after reporting for work.

Also Have Twins

The Engleharts were married five years ago. They also have twins, Kathleen and Josephine, 4, and another daughter, Mary 21. Mrs. Englehart's other children are Gloria, 5; Beverly, 9, and Marie, 10.

Englehart said he has a take home pay of about $117 every two weeks—after deductions for retirement and social security, but none for federal income taxes. The family lives in a 3-bedroom home owned by his father.

The quadruplets weighed in at: Boy A, 2 pounds 11 ounces; Boy B, 3 pounds 7 ounces, and the girls, 4 pounds each.

Britain Hails German Chief

Royal Family
Present to Greet
President Heuss

London —P— Britain put on a show of pomp and ceremony today to welcome West German President Theodor Heuss—the first German chief of state to come here since Kaiser Wilhelm's visit in 1907.

Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, Prince Philip, drove to London's Victoria station to greet him. Princess Margaret and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan were there, too, amid a top-level assortment of British royalty and government officials.

Horse-drawn carriages which figure in all British royal ceremonies carried the 74-year-old president and his hosts through the crowded, gaily decorated streets of London to Buckingham palace.

There were occasional bursts of applause and cheers, but a lot of these seemed to be intended mainly for the British monarch.

President Heuss, who had appeared somewhat solemn throughout the formal greetings, relaxed in his carriage, waved his hat and smiled at the crowd.

Heuss will be here for three days.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, as head of the government, has been here before, but no actual head of state has touched British soil in the half a century since Kaiser Wilhelm's visit.

Red Guns Pound Quemoy, Tatan in Ending Cease-Fire

Russian Missing After Britain Shelters Him

London —P— A young red army tank driver who fled to the west is believed to have been secretly flown back to Russia from Britain. The Soviet embassy here assured the foreign office 22-year-old Sgt. Anatoli Ponomarenko went back voluntarily.

But Russian emigre sources are convinced he was kidnapped by red agents under the noses of Scotland Yard men detailed to guard him. They believe he now has been executed.

Ponomarenko had 70 days of freedom in Britain after quitting his unit in East Germany and escaping to West Berlin last Dec. 31. After his escape, his commanding officer accused him of murdering a comrade and demanded his return.

British authorities replied that the soldier's pistol had not been fired since it was made. He was granted political asylum.

Shortly after coming to London, he helped write a pamphlet calling on other

Russian soldiers to desert. He spoke out on television and addressed an anti-communist meeting in London. Early in March he disappeared from his hideout in northwest London, leaving behind all his personal belongings, books, papers and spare clothes.

Officials of the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists, an emigre movement dedicated to overthrowing Russia's communist regime, told Scotland Yard that just before Ponomarenko vanished, he became friendly with a middle-aged Russian woman.

He put through frantic telephone calls to two emigre friends on March 12. But both men had gone away and he refused to speak to their wives.

The sergeant never was seen again. The Soviet embassy told the British foreign office he visited the embassy and asked to return to Russia. Friends in the emigre organization said the idea is preposterous, that he was "clearly dedicated to our mission."

Divers Hunt for Bodies of 10 Lost In Plane Tragedy

Argentina, Newfoundland

—P— Seven U.S. navy divers went down in Placentia bay here today looking for the bodies of 10 men believed trapped in an American radar patrol plane.

One man was known to have been killed in Saturday's crash. 10 are missing and 18 were rescued.

A wing of the giant navy Superconstellation was found yesterday, but there was no sign of the fuselage. Officials have expressed the opinion that wind-whipped waves may have broken it up.

The plane plunged into 30 feet of water about 1,000 feet from a runway of the U.S. Naval base here during an instrument landing. It was raining and foggy at the time but a navy officer said the field was well lighted.

Winds whipped the bay into a fury yesterday and halted search operations for six hours.

2 Turkish Policemen Killed in West Cyprus

Nicosia —P— Two Turkish Cypriot auxiliary policemen were shot to death this morning at a mine near Polis, in west Cyprus. Police believed the killers escaped on motor-cycles.

Ford Loses In Tax Fight

High Court Won't Review Claim to Millions in Refunds

Washington —P— Ford Motor Co. lost in the supreme court today a multi-million dollar claim to refund of excise taxes because of cash credits allowed dealers for correcting defects in vehicles.

The high court refused to consider the case. It thereby let stand a decision by the U.S. Court of Claims which rejected Ford's contentions. Ford asked a refund of $8,899,547 for a period from Aug. 1, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1954, but millions of dollars additional were involved.

Had Ford's contentions as to proper interpretation of the tax laws been upheld, other manufacturers of various articles subject to excise taxes could also have sought refunds.

The court of claims ruled that the cash payments and credit allowed dealers were not a readjustment of sales prices or debates or allowances within the meaning of the tax laws.

After Ford expenditures were made or credits allowed, the court of claims said, the dealer "got no more than he had paid for, to wit, a sound article; he certainly did not get back any part of the purchase price."

Thomas Edward Lee, 18, Left, will get the maximum penalty for second degree murder—50 years to life. ## Thomson Moves to Clear Skenandore

Sheriff was 'Extremely Indiscreet'
In Actions, Judge Tells Governor

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — Gov. Vernon W. Thomson ruled today that there is no actionable cause for removing Brown County Sheriff Artley Skenandore from office.

For the second time this year, the governor dismissed charges of improper conduct against the sheriff made by Francis Leanna, a member of the Brown county board, and Mrs. Mary Ann Sanderson, former proprietor of a house of prostitution.

The governor followed the findings of Reserve Judge

Herman Sachiten of Madison, who presided at the formal hearings on the charges in Green Bay last July. Sachiten also held that Skenandore was "extremely indiscreet" in some of his actions.

Earlier he had rejected a petition for the removal of Skenandore after naming Frank Larkin, a Milwaukee private detective, to make a special investigation of the complaints against the sheriff.

The governor upheld the findings of Sachiten that Skenandore had carried out the duties of his office "in a capable and efficient manner," and that he is not "guilty of any inefficiency, neglect of duty or malfeasance of office."

Thomson also released the findings of the hearing commissioner that "the sheriff

Flemming Tries to Speed Program on Polio Vaccination

Washington —P— A new winter campaign aimed at revitalizing the polio vaccination program was announced today by Secretary of Welfare Flemming.

Flemming told a news conference 53 per cent of the population under 40 has not had the basic three polio vaccine injections and over a third has had no vaccine at all.

He called attention to public health service statistics showing 1,815 cases of paralytic polio during the first nine months of this year, 238 more than in the same period 1957 span.

He said the paralytic increase is no reflection on the efficacy of the vaccine. There also is no evidence that properly vaccinated persons are losing their immunity, he added.

British Start to Pull Forces Out of Jordan

Amman, Jordan —P— British forces started to pull out of Jordan today. Airborne paratroops first landed in Amman, 96 days ago to protect this kingdom's independence.

The first unit left the port of Aqaba, in Jordan's extreme south on board the tank landing ship Macleod bound for Cyprus.

20 Killed in Tanker Blast

Ship Explodes in Arabian Sea; 50 of Crew Rescued

London —P— The 17,409-ton tanker Stanvac Japan blew up in the Arabian sea today, killing 20 of its crew.

The London owners of the vessel said the 17,735-ton Panamanian tanker Patricia had messaged it has rescued 50 other members of the crew of 70.

The messages said the tanker's midship section and bridge had been blown away in the blast, 525 miles north-west of Bombay and 160 miles southeast of Karachi.

A. J. Vecsey, general manager for the owners, Standard Vacuum Transportation Co., Ltd., said the company was informed by the Patricia's officers that the stricken tanker has been completely abandoned. Vecsey said plans are being made for a naval ship to try to tow the wreck to port.

The Stanvac Japan was built in Japan. The owners said it was manned by 16 British officers and 54 Indian crewmen. It was sailing with ballast from Bombay to the Persian gulf.

Messages to the Bombay port trust said the tanker's captain, H. D. Hanna, was among those killed.

Negroes Backed in Using Park Facilities

Washington —P— The supreme court today affirmed a lower court order that Negroes have a right to use a golf course and other park facilities managed by the New Orleans City Park Improvement association, a municipal corporation.

The association had appealed to the high tribunal to overturn the order issued by the U. S. district court in New Orleans.

Officials Try to Learn Why Off-Duty Policeman Killed 4

New York —P— What deadly impulse drove Policeman James McDermott to the cold-blooded slaughter of four men in a Broadway restaurant?

Did injuries he suffered last year in a car accident twist his mind with destructive urges?

McDermott

Did he bear a grudge against the victims? One was a convicted loan shark and two of the others also had police records.

Had he been drinking? Police investigated these angles today to try to uncover some explanation for the 34-year-old patrolman's violent outburst yesterday in the Pic-a-Rib restaurant.

McDermott himself could not supply the answers immediately.

He lay speechless in critical condition on a hospital bed. His body was riddled with five bullet wounds inflicted by other policemen who waged a spectacular gun duel with him on midtown streets as he fled from the restaurant.

Two of the capturing policemen were from McDermott's Leme precinct.

McDermott, married and the father of four, was off duty when he entered the restaurant on Broadway near Fifty-third street yesterday about 1:45 a.m. A few minutes later, without warning, he drew two guns and blazed away at helpless patrons. Four men fell mortally wounded.

McDermott crashed through the glass paneling of a door and fled.

Pursuing policemen opened heavy fire, hitting him five times. He returned the fire,

Charge U. S. Warships Break Truce

Taipei —P— The Chinese Reds broke their cease-fire in Formosa strait today, pounding Quemoy for nearly three hours and then turning their guns on Tatan islet off Amoy.

On his way here for important talks, Secretary of State Dulles said it was a tragedy the communists had again displayed their "warlike disposition." He made the statement during a refueling stop for his jet tanker at Fairbanks, Alaska.

The nationalists on Quemoy, amply supplied during the nearly 15-day cease-fire, returned the red fire. The communist artillery caught four nationalist supply ships in the Quemoy beach area—three LSTs and one navy transport. There was no word on whether any were hit.

The red guns blazed at Quemoy for 2 hours and 45 minutes, then halted. Eighty minutes later, they opened up on Tatan, a 96-acre islet 2½ miles south of Amoy.

A nationalist spokesman said no American ships were in the beach area. The communists in ending the cease-fire had charged U.S. warships had broken the truce by escorting nationalist supplies to Quemoy last night.

The Americans flatly denied this, saying they had only "conducted a small-boat operation . . . lifting Chinese nationalist supply craft through international waters," at least 15 miles off Quemoy.

Fire Returned
The nationalist defense ministry said the communists resumed shelling at 4 p.m., 50 minutes after Peiping radio broadcast orders cancelling the cease-fire. The communists announced a week ago that their self-imposed hold-fire had been extended to midnight next Sunday.

The nationalists said they waited one hour after the communists began shooting, then opened fire. A nationalist spokesman said the red bombardment was not so heavy as on Aug. 23, when the offshore war began with an intense, 2-hour bombardment. During that initial attack

Recess Follows Fake Bomb Threat

Peoria, Ill. —P— A third fake bomb report in four days gave a recess today to 1,150 high school students in this city where a Jewish temple was bombed last week.

Classes at Woodruff High school were dismissed for three hours while police checked the report.

Thursday, an anonymous telephone caller reported a bomb was in Peoria Central High school. Classes were dismissed for the day. Late in the afternoon—after school hours—a bomb was reported in Trewin Junior High school.

An explosion in a classroom at Ridgewood Community High school near Peoria today was attributed to a large firecracker, or cherry bomb.

Urges U. S. to Take Lead in Study of Space

Report Says Reds Should be Invited To Join Program

Washington —(AP)— The United States should take the lead in creation of an international body to supervise exploration of space, a congressional report says.

"A move now by the free nations to create this international space organization might prove to be the best approach in saving the world from a military race to dominate space," said a staff report of the house astronautics and space committee.

The committee made the report public during the week-end.

Russia should be given a genuine invitation to join in the report said, but "if the offer is not accepted the free world must still move ahead to create the partnership."

Russia eventually would be forced to take note of the proposed agency, the report added.

It said this country should act now, to gain the support of most of the world's scientists in this field at a time when few governments have individual space programs of their own under way.

New Space Agency
It said the country's new civilian space agency, the national aeronautics and space administration, could take a number of steps along this line even before an international agency is created.

Among these the report suggested permanent liaison facilities to assist cooperative efforts among nations, a catalogue of space projects and scientific talent, exchange of scientific personnel among nations, and expansion of scientific training facilities.

Foreign scientists and nations are now willing to work with this country, the report said, but this disposition might be lessened if too much of the information is kept secret.

Steinle and Proxmire Continue Campaign For Seat in Senate

By The Associated Press
Sen. William Proxmire predicted Sunday there would be a "new calamity in farm prices" unless Democrats win enough seats in congress "to reverse the Benson farm policies."

Roland Steinle, Republican nominee for U. S. senator, Sunday reiterated his argument that Proxmire's spending proposals would "bring down upon the heads of young people the crushing burden of paying for 23 billions of dollars worth of irresponsible campaign promises."

Returned to Prison

Knifing Stirs Community Action Against Work Gang

McAlester, Okla. —(AP)— The weekend knifing of a 22-year-old woman has stirred strong feelings in the Weathers community south of here against prison work gangs.

A detachment of prison workers was returned to the state penitentiary here early Sunday after the convict camp at Bolling Hollow was invaded by almost a score of area residents armed with shotguns.

The irate residents demanded that the camp be evacuated, and Assistant Warden Clint Gladden ordered the move.

Touching off the incident was an attack on Mrs. Arliss Clunn, mother of three children.

Mrs. Clunn was struck over the head, knifed and robbed at a store in the Weathers community Saturday afternoon.

A Fierce Fire That Caused $300,000 damage to the Berlin Glove company left only the building's wall standing today. The block-square factory was the city's biggest industry. ## $300,000 Fire Levels Berlin Leather Firm

Flames Start in Ignition System of Truck; Firemen Prevent Spreading

Berlin —(AP)— A roaring fire that took more than six hours to quell Sunday destroyed a block-square leather goods factory causing $300,000 damage.

Fire Chief Wilton Marks of Berlin and Deputy State Fire Marshal Earl Schwabe, Brillion, said the flames apparently got their start from the faulty ignition system of a truck parked next to the building.

Spread From Truck
Schwabe said the truck caught fire and the flames spread to the building in the pre-dawn darkness.

The 2-story brick building housed the Berlin-Glove company and the Midwestern Sportswear company, two of the community's largest industries. They employed 60 persons.

Firemen from Berlin and Ripon poured tons of water on the flames.

At the height of the blaze the roof caved in, leaving only the building's four walls standing.

Marks, who made the damage estimate, said the fire was discovered at 4:45 a.m. by a policeman's wife while walking her dog.

Prevent Spreading
Mrs. Thomas Barbola, the wife of the patrolman, said she saw smoke curling from the building, awakened her husband and he turned in the alarm.

Firemen said that the blaze was reported in time to prevent flames from spreading to other nearby buildings. The factory was located a block from the downtown Berlin business district.

Thousands of dollars in leather pelts were destroyed by the flames, plus thousands more in finished goods, Marks said.

Stevenson spoke to a Democratic party fund raising dinner and was cheered by 4,000 persons.

The former presidential candidate said needless crises could have been avoided if the administration had looked ahead "instead of waiting placidly on the fairways until mortal danger is upon us and then angrily calling out the marines."

Stevenson declared: "We have had almost four years of grace over the last crisis of Quemoy to extricate ourselves. Instead, we have allowed Chiang Kai-shek to bring us closer to war, to imperil the prestige and the peace of the United States over little islands as close to New York, islands which have always belonged to the mainland, which are useless to the Formosa government and which in the long run are untenable."

Mrs. Clunn was taken to the Hartshorne clinic, and attendants said she suffered severe abdominal wounds. She told officers a man entered the store and gave her a note demanding money.

Runs for Help
"I gave him $10 which is all I had and then ran out of the store screaming for help," she said.

"The man chased me and I fell down. I felt a pop bottle hit me on the head and then felt the knife in my stomach. The man then ran away and I ran to a neighbor's house for help, taking the children with me."

The store was burned after the attack.

Officers said there had been earlier complaints about the trustees working in the area.

65 Killed in Crash of Red Jet Airliner

China Gives First Account of Accident; Moscow Investigates

London —(AP)— The crash of a TU104 jet airliner, show-piece of Soviet aviation, took the lives of the 65 passengers and all crew members, red China announced Sunday night.

Peiping radio said there were no survivors of the crash Friday night at Kanash, 400 miles east of Moscow, and that among the dead were 16 Chinese government officials.

It was the first crash to be announced for the jet airliner, the pride of the Soviet Commercial air fleet.

The other 49 passengers were described as "foreign friends" and experts on their way home from red China. They included one Briton, four East Germans and the son of the Cambodian ambassador to Peiping.

First Details
The number of crew members was not given, but the TU104 usually carries up to 10.

The Peiping broadcast gave the first details of the disaster.

Moscow radio, in one of its rare announcements of air mishaps, said Saturday night that the plane went down on a regular Peiping-to-Moscow flight but did not disclose how many had been killed.

Aeroflot, the Soviet state airline, said in Moscow no further details would be disclosed until an investigation has cleared up the case.

The Importance
An indication of the importance attached by the Soviet government to the crash was the fact that Aviation Minister M. V. Khrushchev is heading an investigation by six experts.

Peiping radio disclosed only the names: The 16 Chinese victims. These included Cheng Chen-to, head of a cultural delegation to Afghanistan and the United Arab Republic, nine members of his mission, and six officials of the foreign and foreign trade ministries.

The TU104 has been the flagship of Soviet commercial aviation since 1956, when it was used to ferry Khrushchev and then-premier Nikolai Bulganin to Britain on a state visit.

Downward Revision of Victory Estimates by Some Democrats Noted

Truman Preaches Caution to Party In Public, Private Appearances

Washington —(AP)— With two weeks of campaigning left, and the house gain possibly more than 60.

Nevertheless some Democratic candidates apparently are having trouble financing their final campaign drives, despite a reported $200,000 Truman preached caution to the Democrats in public and private appearances here during the weekend. It was Truman's theme that if the Democrats start counting their raise money for four senatorial and house gains in adial candidates she and the vance they may be in for committee for an effective congress seem to feel need a little extra push.

Although he said nothing publicly on the subject, it seemed evident that Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas did not share fully the optimism of some of the members of his party's senatorial campaign committee.

Grain of Salt
Johnson, a conservative in such matters, is satisfied the Democrats are going to strengthen their hold on the senate, where they now outnumber the Republicans 49-47 excluding a gain in Maine. But he apparently is taking with a grain of salt reports to the committee indicating a Democratic landslide.

Looking back at 1954, some Democrats concede that President Eisenhower was able to cut Republican losses by last-minute campaigning. These strategists credit Vice President Nixon with giving the Republicans new hope with his campaigning.

Eisenhower is now on a western campaign swing, and Nixon has a full schedule ahead as well as behind him.

Gain of 10 Seats
However, Chairman George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) said field reports to the Democratic senatorial committee remain "good everywhere." He has been predicting a minimum gain of 10 seats and said he isn't lowering his sights.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler raised his estimates a bit. He has been predicting a gain of 8 to 12 senate seats and 50 to 60 in the house. He said yesterday he thinks the senate figure may be closer to 12.

Paper Forecasts Democratic Gains

New York Times Thinks They Will Add 15 to 40 in House

New York — (AP) — The New York Times said today a nationwide survey of political conditions by Times correspondents indicated Democratic gains in the house of representatives at the Nov. 4 election.

There were few signs of the Time said the general landslide that some Democrats predicted when they said two weeks before the election, their party would gain 60 to 80 seats in the house of representatives.

This would give them a comfortable majority in the next congress. When the press reported close and subject to change in the closing days of might gain as many as 10 or 14 Republican-held seats.

Such as New Jersey, Connecticut, California, West Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Washington, Maryland, North Dakota, Kentucky and Ohio.

There seemed to be little chance that Vice President Nixon would get the nation- wide vote of confidence in the Eisenhower administration for which he has asked. Nixon has urgued campaign audiences to vote for Republican house and senate candidates who would support President Eisenhower's program.

Urge Russians to Go Ahead With All Planned Meetings

Washington—Secretary of State Dulles today rebuffed a Soviet bid for an early foreign ministers meeting on ending nuclear weapons tests. But he offered to attend a later east-west conference if that "seems necessary and desirable."

In notes delivered in Moscow, the U. S. and British governments called on the Soviet Union to begin diplomatic negotiations on the test issue Oct. 31, as previously agreed. Dulles said he, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Russia's Andrei Gromyko should not attend the initial sessions. tack 41,000 communist rounds were fired, killing 11 civilians and wounding 18 on Quemoy, and causing more than 200 military casualties.

The abrupt development raised grave new problems for Secretary of State Dulles, flying by jet tanker over the North polar route to Formosa. His mission was to clear up misunderstandings with nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek and lay the base for a fire for Oct. 6 and in extending more substantial cease-fire in Formosa strait.

Half Wedding Plans Of 11-Year-Old Girl

Atlanta—Happy Hollow will never seem the same to the 11-year-old Tennessee mountain girl and the 33-year-old man she fell in love with there.

Authorities in two states broke up their plans to get married yesterday.

The girl, still wearing the blue satin gown and the high-heeled shoes she bought for the wedding, was placed in a juvenile detention home in Atlanta pending arrival of her father from Happy Hollow, Tenn.

Police at Sevierville, Tenn., said they were holding the Rev. G. W. Rollins on a kidnap charge. Officers identified him as a Baptist.

This was in conflict with Dulles' hopes. He has been working on the line that the communists might institute a permanent cease-fire if the nationalists would thin their large garrison on Quemoy down to a point where it could not be considered an invasion threat to the mainland.

Striking Hotel Workers to Vote On New Contract

Pittsburgh—Some 2,300 striking employees of five Pittsburgh hotels will vote soon on whether to accept a new contract proposal.

A 35-member negotiating committee of local 237, Hotel and Restaurant Workers, agreed Sunday to place the new proposal before the membership but did not immediately announce when the vote will be taken.

Attending the local 237 meeting were officers of striking local 188 of the Bartenders union.

The 20-day strike affects the Penn-Sheraton, Pittsburgh, Roosevelt, Sherwyn and Webster Hall hotels.

The offer reportedly gives non-tip employees wage hikes of five cents an hour this year, 41 cents next year and four cents more in 1960. Tip employees, now working 48 to 44 hours a week, would work only 40 hours a week without loss in pay. The proposed pact also reportedly includes a pension offer. Wage scales under the old contract were not made public.

Doctor Leaves Vatican Post

Pope's Physician Under Fire for Articles He Wrote

Vatican City—Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, Pope Pius XII's doctor, has resigned as director of Vatican City health services. He is under fire for articles he wrote and sold to newspapers recounting the pontiff's final hours.

A letter of resignation dated Oct. 18 was sent to Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals.

Sources close to the Vatican said the resignation was "the only possible solution" to a situation in which the doctor had been condemned by the press and criticized in parliament.

Press Condemns

The National Association of the Italian Press unanimously condemned him for "disgusting comportment" in selling the articles. Some papers bought them and then refused to print them.

Newspaper reporters at the Vatican press office were told that the college of cardinals has given instructions to the Swiss guards that Galeazzi-Lisi is not to be admitted hereafter to Vatican city or Vatican properties outside Vatican City.

In Rome, the Italian press group adopted a resolution condemning the doctor's articles and called upon newspapers "to exercise a self-control of their functions with the greatest scruples."

One Rome newspaper last week started printing the doctor's series of articles, but carried an editor's note saying parts had been deleted because they seemed "too crude."

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAM gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAM moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAM's unequalled rebuilding action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAM acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAM relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAM won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAM today! Introductory size 43c.

The Phony Issue

Gov. Muskie of Maine, one of the brightest stars to rise in Democratic politics in recent years, visited Wisconsin last week. His purpose was to help Wisconsin Democrats in the current campaign, but he may have shocked them into a state of paralysis.

Gov. Muskie was asked about the sales tax. Why, of course, they have a sales tax in Maine. Why, of course, they like it. Wouldn't think of getting rid of it. In fact, his administration increased the rate from 2 to 3 per cent.

Exit Gov. Muskie.

The Wisconsin CIO earlier this year hired a research organization to test Wisconsin opinion on a number of subjects including the sales tax. It found that opinion on this subject throughout the state was just about evenly divided, pro and con. The CIO filed this research report in its deep-seated vault, and has guarded it as if it were the plans for an ICBM.

The Minneapolis Star & Tribune conducts what it calls The Minnesota Poll. This year it asked the people of that state — which does not have a sales tax — whether they would prefer a 2 per cent sales tax or an increase in property taxes to raise the same amount of money. Fifty-nine per cent said they preferred a sales tax. 30 per cent supported higher property taxes, and the rest were undecided.

We wonder how long Wisconsin's Democrats can continue hypnotizing themselves — and many Republicans as well — into believing that a majority of the people of this state are opposed to a sales tax. and would prefer to see income or property taxes raised instead. It is interesting to speculate, in fact, how the Democrats ever got themselves into this position — where they are opposing something that is supported by the Democrats of practically every other state in the Union. something the people of these other states take for granted and to our knowledge seldom complain about, something that has been used by Democratic governors and Democratic-controlled legislatures in the country's most populous states to balance their tax systems and provide the revenue needed to operate our ever more expensive state governments in this age of urbanization, exploding school populations and greater demands from the people for government services.

Even more mystifying, perhaps, has been the blindness of the Republicans on this matter. The sales tax "issue" was dredged up by the Democrats because they have been desperate for issues in this state for which the Republicans have provided generally good government for so many years. The obvious tactic for the GOP was to point out that it, after all, was responsible for operating the state government and could not afford to reject out of hand such a widely-used revenue producing device simply to curry favor with an unknown percentage of the electorate. But instead the Republicans, in effect, accepted the Democratic argument that a candidate must be against a sales tax if he wants to win office in Wisconsin — an argument that has never been proved because no candidate so far has had the courage to publicly stand up for a sales tax. Thus the Republicans, at one and the same time, have permitted the Democrats to make an issue out of something that should not have been an issue, and have immediately surrendered to the enemy on that issue!

The real issue is not whether we shall have a sales tax; it is how we are going to raise the money our state and local governments are going to need in the years just ahead. A sales tax is one way of raising that money; raising other taxes such as income and property taxes is another way. No matter what the outcome of the election or the "debate" on the tax question, we are going to pay more taxes in Wisconsin — that we know for sure.

Health Insurance for the Aged

Because of improved medical service and better health conditions all around, the number of aged persons is constantly increasing. While we have learned to keep people alive longer we have not found any way to prevent their bones from becoming brittle, their muscles stiff and their reactions slow with the result that the health of the elderly is precarious.

Fractured ankles, broken hips are common among the aged. This means that any aged person is likely to be faced with a severe medical and hospital bill at any time. The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare reports that aged persons are protecting themselves by buying health insurance. Today a greater percentage than ever of the elderly are protected by voluntary health insurance plans. but there is still room for great expansion in this field.

The latest government report shows that the number of Americans 65 and over increased 13 per cent from March, 1952, to September, 1956, while the number of elderly citizens covered by health insurance went up 56 per cent. The figures do not include those in institutions such as homes for indigent care. The report points out that 26 per cent of the population in the senior years, or one out of every four persons 65 and over, had health insurance in March, 1952. By September, 1956, this proportion had climbed to better than one out of every three, or 37 per cent.

We're Always on the Brink

It seems that the Republicans are always leading us to "the brink." The Democratic Advisory council last week accused the administration of taking this nation "to the brink of isolation from our allies and to the brink of having to fight a nuclear war inadequately prepared and alone."

The Formosa crisis, the Democrats think, should have been referred to the United Nations for recommendations on preventing aggression and securing peace. The United Nations also should assure the people on Formosa the right to determine their own future.

Would the Democrats be satisfied with another police action, as in Korea, under the aegis of the United Nations with American fighting men bearing the brunt over the brink, after delays and frustration in the UN have encouraged the communists to unleash all-out war on Formosa?

Would the token forces from other members of the United Nations console them for America's new sacrifice of her sons? Would they like to see an American president again bow to UN indecision and faintheartedness, and halt a victorious American general at the very gates of the enemy? Would the shadow of Khrushchev bring another shameful retreat and subject the world forever to the fear of communist aggression?

The one inescapable fact is that we are not at war, that this time the communists have had no assurance of immunity, and that their threats have not been put into effect. War may come. It may be a "Republican war," as some impetuous Democrats would doubtless call it. If it does come, will we be in worse position than we were in Korea?

east development plan — with middle east wealth that is abundant in Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and Iraq. He contended that "people think we ought to fix the world . . . a very large order, indeed." But he repudiated the image of an Uncle Sam as a papa taking everybody by the hand and leading them in an impossible global paternalism.

There was much substance to Dr. Wriston's views. Uncle Sam, for that matter, is too immature in diplomacy and global saving to assume the paternal role.

Chamber Asks UW Center be Selected on Basis of Convenience

Editor, Post-Crescent:

If the Outagamie County Board action on the matter of the University of Wisconsin Extension Center is correct as reported in the Appleton Post-Crescent on Oct. 15, the citizens of Appleton, Kaukauna, Little Chute, Kimberly, Combined Locks, and the entire community of the Fox Cities area have been most rudely let down.

For the county board to appropriate $250,000 toward the construction of a $500,000 building project with the condition that the site must be in Outagamie county is very much the same as no appropriation whatever. Certainly we cannot expect Winnebago county to act differently than our county and the obvious result is no University Center whatever unless Outagamie county is willing to bear the entire burden. This the Winnebago County Board and citizens would, no doubt, be very pleased to have done. They could then enjoy the facilities at no expense to them and would even have the advantage of tax income from land which might otherwise have been removed from the tax rolls for a site in their county.

I have attended several meetings of citizen groups on this matter. There is very strong sentiment for the establishment of a permanent U. W. Center in this area. This, too, is apparently the overwhelming sentiment of the members of the county board. Such a center is not a matter of the likes or dislikes of one city or one county. Rather it is a matter of vital interest to our entire Fox Cities area and the question of site location should and must be determined on the basis of convenience to commuting students and faculty and to facilities for expansion of the physical plant. A site of 30 acres or more would seem to be an essential minimum for prudent investment. Additional lands will become very expensive as the residential community develops around such an attractive institution as a University Center.

It seems obvious that the county board should take a broad view on this matter. Let us first agree with our neighbors of Winnebago county that a University Center is not only desirable but needed for our community. Let's make the appropriation of our fair share as has been done but let the matter of the site be determined on the basis of an impartial study of requirements for the center and availability of land. If such study results in a decision for a site in Outagamie county — well and good — but if it results in a site selection in Winnebago county — well and good also (and our taxable land will not be reduced).

Odd Way to Spend Funds

From The Beloit Daily News

We've been reading that the labor department will be asking for $5 million to conduct a detailed survey on how Americans spend their money.

Well, we aren't an expert, and our results are only based on personal experience and that of all our friends and relatives, but we could tell any investigating senatorial committee where a big hunk of the money goes.

It goes to Uncle Sam so he can have his boys conduct investigations into where it goes.

Mr. Wambold is a gentleman of ample means and good business capacity and we are pleased to see him once more engaged in business on our water power. ## GOP Needs Glamor In Campaign Efforts

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Gov. Thomson's campaign for the second term which most of his predecessors have won almost automatically badly needs some glamorizing.

Sen. Nelson and the Democratic party have sought valiantly to find a chink in the administration's record that could be exploited successfully as an issue in terms of popular appeal. They have not yet found one, as far as the sideler can judge.

What they have as an advantage is something that is not of their own making — a seeming trend in their favor on national issues and causes, and a relatively pro-saic record of performance by the reigning Republicans at the statehouse. Gov. Thomson in essential respects has continued the broad lines of policy of the Republican regimes of the last two decades, regimes that managed to win reelection each two years with reasonably decisive majorities and with only normal campaign effort.

But there has been little that is dramatically new. It is hard to answer that classically cynical question of the voter: "What have you done for me lately." It is a question of good government without trimmings, of prudent management and an adherence to programs and policies tried and tested in the past.

GLAMOR WANTED

The governor is telling the voters about his success in holding down the tax rate, about financing extraordinary demands for educational and welfare services despite a stabilization of taxation, about paying out multi-million dollar sums to localities to help them meet their extraordinary budgeting problems and other themes that worked well enough for the men who served under his party label in other years.

But those men had margins of 100,000 to 200,000 votes to spare. Today the competitive position of the parties is clear. The Democrats are virtually knocking on the doors of the capitol. The evidence of general Democratic gains over the country is clear. That tide will surely have some backwash effect here.

Where is the gimmick with which the governor and the Republicans can remind the voter that theirs is the performance and the viewpoint and the record with which the electorate has been generally content for a long time?

PUBLICITY PROBLEM

Involved in that key problem is another and a peculiar one that has been evident for a long time. Such novelties as the Republicans have achieved from time to time have somehow failed to be popularized as they are in other states. Perhaps the Republicans are not as skilled in press agency. A few years ago, for example, some of the more tardy states of the country were being publicized in the national press about their mental hospital reforms — years after Wisconsin had led the parade in that field.

Something of the same order took place during the last couple of years.

One of the big issues in the country, to judge from the perturbation of the politicians on the stump, involves union corruption. The issue of welfare fund mismanagement in some labor organizations was blazed across the country in the McClellan committee hearings. But the fact that the Wisconsin legislature and Gov. Thomson a year ago adopted a tough state statute providing for the filing of labor organization welfare fund reports and the state supervision of such funds — and all other funds involving welfare benefits to employees — has been nearly forgotten.

Under any other administration it would have been hailed as a great progressive enactment, a manifestation of the "Wisconsin idea" of social legislation. But today it is but a detail, ignored, unknown or forgotten.

Urban Problems Call for Study

From The Municipality

Cities and villages must be given the opportunity for normal expansion. The complexities of urban growth are increasing each year. Responsibility for the solution of problems caused by the urbanization of Wisconsin's population rests equally with the state and local units of government. Continuing study of urban problems at all levels of government must be encouraged and local units must be given adequate means to solve problems of urbanization through cooperative effort. In all matters relating to urban expansion the home rule authority of cities and villages must be given full consideration and what appear to be simple solutions through mandatory state legislation must be discouraged.

Employment Lack Not as Large A Factor, State Survey Shows

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Economic problems of the Oneida Indian community in Outagamie and Brown counties relate to behavior of individuals, rather than to a lack of employment opportunity for the group.

That is the conclusion of a survey of the Oneida community undertaken on behalf of the Governor's Commission on Human Rights, and made public here today. The study was prepared by Douglas Thorson, a research assistant in the department of economics at the University of Wisconsin, under joint sponsorship of the commission. He interviewed hundreds of Oneida individuals, and many of their employers.

The study originally was requested by the executive board of the Oneida tribe, which is concerned about possible industrial development in the locality for the benefit of its members.

Many Opportunities

Thorson said he found employment opportunities for the Indians abundant in neighboring communities, including Green Bay, Appleton and other near-by industrial centers.

"The main cause of the economic problems of the Oneida area in normal times is not a lack of employment opportunities," his report said.

"Finding indicate most of the problems of the Oneida arise out of the behavior pattern of a particular segment of the members of the tribe. Hence, we feel that any improvement in the economic conditions of the Oneida community must grow out of an elevation in the character and intentions of those individuals and families, who themselves, are experiencing economic and social problems," it added.

The study found employers testifying cordially about the efficiency and worth of Oneidas regularly employed, and especially about women of the community who have jobs.

Seasonal Work

But a portion of the Oneida labor force tends to concentrate on seasonal work and employers of the seasonal workers complained of absenteeism and the aimlessness of many of the workers. Parents of the younger members of the tribe should encourage them to develop skills and positive job goals, the report said.

Thorson found there is no significant discrimination in the employment patterns of the region. Employers make no distinction between races but are concerned about the

GOP Expected To Lose Seats In Congress

Party in Power Gets Blame for All Adverse Happenings

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The oldest rule in the campaign textbook of American politics is that the party in power must be blamed for every adverse happening, including the bad weather that ruins a farm crop. This autumn, in accordance with a precedent rarely broken, the incumbent administration, through no fault of its own, is expected to lose seats in both houses of congress.

The main reason, of course, is the business recession. So deeply rooted is the illusion that the party in power can perform miracles in maintaining uninterrupted prosperity as yet getting much benefit from it. This is the effort to appealing to the unemployed or of claiming credit when employment is high.

The present recession really began in the spring of 1957 and, politically speaking, there has been lots of time for the president's firmness against political prejudices to be cultivated against the Republican party. Even though the nation now is slowly coming out of the recession, it may be too late to change the votes of many who have been adversely affected.

Emotional Issue

Does this mean that with every recession the party in power must go down to defeat in the next election and that prosperity is a sure winner for the party that has that issue on its side? Not at all. Actually, an emotional issue can sway votes far more than economic questions. The country was still suffering from high unemployment in 1940 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt was running for a third term, but the general fright over American involvement in World War II caused many a citizen to give the administration a vote of confidence at the polls.

There is an "emotional" issue.

St. John Grade Tips Kaukauna Squad 24-0

Little Chute—St. John Grade school copped its fifth straight victory of the season by defeating St. Mary's, Kaukauna, 24 to 20 Friday.

The victory kept the Chutes in first place and set the stage for their battle with St. Patrick's of Menasha here Oct. 31. This week the team draws a bye in league play.

Coaches Gene Vande Hey and Joe Verbrick saw their squad held scoreless in the first half by the scrappy Kaukauna team but three third period scores put the game on ice.

Jay Lamers scored the first St. John touchdown on an 11-yard run. To minutes later Jim Versteeg intercepted a pass and romped 42 yards to pay dirt.

Steve Rochon supplied the third and fourth scores. He broke away for a 75-yard touchdown run just as the third period ended and counted on a 52-yard scamper in the early minutes of the final quarter.

Socialistic Era

For there is a bigger economic issue at stake than most people realize. Will business really feel the jolt of a Democratic triumph in November and see a socialistic era ahead? Will businessmen after the election become hesitant about going ahead with plans for expansion till they know what the radical Democrats will do in congress in 1959 and get a line on what to expect if the Democrats win the White House in 1960?

The recent recession was largely due to a drop-off in confidence by the public when unemployment started in 1957 in what might otherwise have been a normal readjustment of mild proportions. Will confidence sag again if enemies of the free-enterprise system take control of congress and prepare to take over the White House two years hence?

These are some of the aspects of the political situation when the disgruntled Republican will have to bear in mind. They will have to accept some of the responsibility for economic adversity if they don't go to the polls to support conservatives in the current campaign.

Gout Widespread Disease, Commonly Affects Big Toe

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

That miserable affliction, gout, keeps appearing in letters to me for the very good reason that it is long considered the sole property of irascible retired British colonels—is indeed a rather widespread disease.

The Romans had it in the heyday of the Caesars. The Greeks had it before that. The French gave it its present name 700 years ago. Cartoons in Punch and magazine illustrations helped establish the idea that London clubmen and landed gentry had some patient on sitting with a painful foot propped up and cursing any blithering bumbler who touched the tender toe.

People had gout a long time ago, and we have it now, and nine times in ten the big toe will be involved, although other parts of the foot, and sometimes joints of the legs or even the shoulders, may be the site.

Really Hurts

Saying that an attack of gout is "sore as a boil" is an understatement. Touched, it hurts worse as a rule, comes on suddenly and with little warning. This can last for days, and sometimes for several weeks, after which it disappears entirely, and the patient's hope is to put off having another attack as long as he can.

There are drugs which relieve the pain, and an old one, colchicine, remains one of the most useful. Diet is highly important, and avoiding foods that are high in purine seems to be the principal rule. Almost all meats—with a few exceptions—are high in purine, including such items as sweetbreads, kidney, brains, liver, tongue, etc. Beef, veal, pork, bacon, turkey, duck, goose, rabbit and sausage are also strong in purine. So, too, with gravies, meat extracts and soups made from meat.

Many kinds of fish likewise are heavy in purine: Sardines, trout, pike, perch, cod and some others. And lentils are a known offender.

So the gout victim asks what meats he can eat. Ham, chicken and lamb rate much better, so far as purine goes; even so, they should be eaten sparingly. They aren't loaded with purine, but they still contain a good bit. The same is true of some seafoods: Oysters, tuna, shad, salmon, lobster, whitefish, crab, herring. Beans (various kinds, other than lentils) are moderately high in purine, and so are peas, onions, mushrooms.

Fight Infections

M.C.: The lymph nodes in a very real sense filter out the infections which happen to get into the body. It is not uncommon for these lymph nodes to swell, and sometimes they remain enlarged even after the original infection has been eliminated. As a rule, however, they return eventually to normal size.

Issue New Type of Report Cards at Shiocton High School

Shiocton — A new type of report card has been issued to the Shiocton High school pupils.

Each teacher marks the student's grade on a card and the grade is then permanently recorded on six layers of paper attached to a bottom card. This card is a record for the office.

As a result, the reports do not have to be returned at the end of each 6-week marking period. With this system, the parents and they may keep it up a lot of the rich dishes you like, or encouraging another attack of gout. The best advice I can offer is to go extremely easy on any of the high-purine foods, and be reasonably sparing on the medium ones.

See Doctor

"Dear Dr. Molner: My 2-year-old child has an offensive breath. Could you tell me what might be the cause, or what I can do to correct this? I have tried giving laxatives and keeping the bowels open, but this hasn't helped.—Mrs. M. P."

No, that probably wouldn't help, because constipation is not a common cause of foul breath in children. The commonest causes are infected tonsils and adenoids, or sinus disease, so your best course is to see your doctor.

Diet is highly important, and avoiding foods that are high in purine seems to be the principal rule. Almost all meats—with a few exceptions—are high in purine, including such items as sweetbreads, kidney, brains, liver, tongue, etc. Beef, veal, pork, bacon, turkey, duck, goose, rabbit and sausage are also strong in purine. So, too, with gravies, meat extracts and soups made from meat.

Many kinds of fish likewise are heavy in purine: Sardines, trout, pike, perch, cod and some others. And lentils are a known offender.

So the gout victim asks what meats he can eat. Ham, chicken and lamb rate much better, so far as purine goes; even so, they should be eaten sparingly. They aren't loaded with purine, but they still contain a good bit

First Place Float in Saturday's high school homecoming parade was entered by Talisman, the AHS newspaper. The sway back cow, gently mooing as the float progressed won first place in the humor-ous division. Said the inscription, "Let's Mo-oo-ve to Victory."

An Autumn Scene, with Indian maidens offering sacrifices to a god, tied for first place in the serious division. "The Fall of the Indians" was its title.

Young Women in Nursing uniforms stood on the Future Nurses club float. "United We Stand" was their slogan in the first year the group entered a float. The float tied with that entered by Curtain Call for first place in the serious division.

'Bipartisan' Term Of Recent Vintage

Began to be Largely Used Near Close of World War II

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — A half-dozen high-level arguments involving the congressional campaign — and thousands of little ones across the country — are going on about something called bipartisanship in foreign policy.

Some persons are accused of breaking bipartisanship. Some are declared to be supporting it. But not everybody who is talking about bipartisanship is making very plain sense. So the public is hardly in position to decide who is guilty of what, because it can have no very definite idea of what bipartisanship is and is not.

The term began to be largely used about the time the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan underwent a great conversion toward the close of World War II. "Van" had been a power isolationist; now he became a powerful internationalist.

Used "Unpartisan" He preferred the term "unpartisan." By this he meant to suggest that in high and urgent foreign matter there should be no partisanship at all—that is, no fishing about for the sole purpose of domestic political gain.

At all events, the original unpartisans—who are the veteran bipartisans of today—meant then, and mean now, these things:

1. That it is impermissibly petty and bush-league and dangerous for politicians to set up endless howls designed simply to harass any administration in its conduct of this country's business abroad.

2. That the party in opposition to the White House—and indeed individual members of the White House party itself if they so choose—has, however, a right and duty to criticize anything and everything, yes; but only up to the point where it is obvious to any sensible man that you will injure the country itself abroad if you go any further.

Bipartisanship does not mean, and never did mean, that the opposition has no right at any point to pick holes—and at some points violently to pick them. It only means the opposition has a duty to show some responsibility and some commonsense. When an administration is only preparing a policy it is only that administration's policy. But when it has actually made the policy and pledged the country's honor and interest to it abroad—in genuine crises and not mere academic matters—everybody in public life will go along if he is a real bipartisan.

True, this puts critics on a thin diet and especially if they honestly believe the policy to be disastrous. All the same, by this point it is no longer an administration's policy. It is then the declared policy of the United States of America since we really can have only one president at a time.

Thin Diet

Thus, it is easier to illustrate what is not bipartisan than what is. Here are three examples of grave breaches of bipartisanship:

(1) The almost general Republican attacks on the Korean war while the guns were still going. (2) The far less severe and far less general Democratic attacks on Mr. Eisenhower's dispatch of troops to the Middle East—attacks that went on after the troops had landed. (3) Such of those recent assaults on Mr. Eisenhower's Formosa policy as offered no constructive proposal and simply implied to the world that he might not stand with him if right or wrong, he got into war.

Red Cross Begins Junior Program For Schools

Materials for the Outagamie county Junior Red Cross are being sent out to all city and county public and parochial schools this week in preparation for membership enrollment.

The principal of each participating school will appoint a Junior Red Cross teacher-sponsor who enrolls the school, interprets the program to teachers and students and coordinates Red Cross activities in the school.

Last year Junior Red Cross members made comfort articles for hospitals in the Fox Cities area and sent 500 gift boxes to young people in other countries, according to Miss Kathryn Osborn, executive secretary.

PT Boat Brings Young Tahiti-Bound Sailors Back to Home Port

Ojai, Calif. — Two boys who set sail for Tahiti in a homemade boat are back home today—a navy PT boat intercepted them 17 miles at sea.

Herbert G. Dorsey and Dominick Suniga, both 16, built the 15-footer, stocked it with provisions and left on the cruise Saturday with their parents' blessings.

Then Mrs. Suniga changed her mind. She telephoned police, who put the coast guard on the trail. The boys turned around voluntarily when they learned Mrs. Suniga was worried.

Young Dorsey was returned home from Hawaii three months ago after stowing away on a liner.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

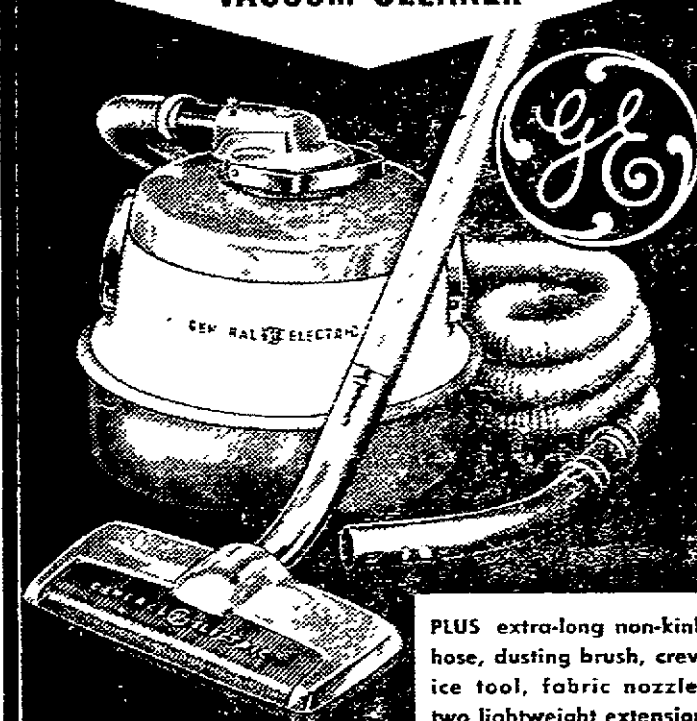

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All tams, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

THERE'S NO BLACKOUT ON CONCRETE

Night driving on a dark-surfaced highway is no fun—as you know from groping along over many weary miles. Tense, jittery, straining to see, never sure what's ahead, you're thankful to arrive at your destination—or to get back on light-colored concrete.

Concrete takes the guesswork out of night driving. It reflects up to four times more light than dark pavements and lets your lights illuminate the road farther ahead. This means you see obstructions, curves, pavement edges and pedestrians clearly. By providing maximum visibility, concrete pavements make your trip easier and help you avoid accidents.

Mr. Motorist, your gas taxes and license fees pay for pavements. These tax dollars go farther when invested in safe, economical concrete roads.

Rockefeller Sees Gains in New York

Off-Year Election Bout Seems To be Bucking National Trend

BY SAMUEL LUBELL

Of all of this year's election contests, certainly the strangest one is the race for governor of New York.

Lubell says that the battle of the millionaires is affording the public a rare opportunity to voice their observations, sometimes amusing and cynical but curiously revealing, about the relationship of money and politics.

Also, the contest is providing the unusual spectacle of an off-year election bout that is bucking the national trend. Wherever I have traveled during the past three months I have found 1-time Eisenhower supporters switching to the Democrats. This shifting shows up in New York state as well. But along with it there is also under way an appreciable swing to Rockefeller at the governor's level.

In the few New York city and Nassau county precincts I have sampled so far, one of every seven persons who voted for Gov. Harriman four years ago is talking of changing for Rockefeller in November. This swing is offset by some Democratic gains because of the recession. But the net Harriman loss seems heavy enough so that Rockefeller must be dated a pretty good chance of winning.

Harriman's strength may be holding much better among other groups of voters whom I have not yet interviewed. His supporters are also counting on his making a better showing in upstate New York than four years ago. Still, I suspect that the really big puzzle about the election outcome is whether Rockefeller can hold the gains he is registering so far.

For there is an oddly tantalizing quality about these Rockefeller gains. They seem to be based mainly on curiosity over "what a Rockefeller would do" rather than on any concrete issues.

Loss of Industry

At least in New York City and Nassau county few voters appear to have been influenced by the issue Rockefeller has hammered at most strenuously—the loss of industry in the state. One hears more grumbling over "the failure to cut taxes" in the state. Some persons complain that Governor Harriman "hasn't done enough to help out New York City" with its financial troubles. Particularly in Nassau county, some discontent is voiced over the need for highways and a junior college.

Only a sprinkling of voters resent "Tammany Hall" having so much influence"—although this issue is talked up strongly by stalwart Republicans.

But the bulk of the men and women swinging to Rockefeller appear to be doing so primarily because of the novelty of his candidacy; also, because of the two millionaire candidates he is the newest one.

"Both men are the same type," explained a 32-year-old bank supervisor. "We've seen Harriman in office. I'd like to try a Rockefeller."

Again, a 49-year-old lithographer felt. "The two men are on a par. But maybe Rockefeller will change things." A telephone installer offered. "There's no big difference. They're both millionaires. I'll take the new broom."

Stress Experience

On the pro-Harriman side, the comments usually stress that "he has the experience, so why take someone who knows nothing about the job." But much of the support voiced for Harriman is mild in tone. One Long Island ironworker expressed a typical reaction when he said, "I can't tell you anything spectacular that Harriman has done, but I'm sure he hasn't done anything bad either, or they would have brought it out. We might as well stick with him."

In short, there seems to be a surprisingly small difference of feeling between many of the Harriman and Rockefeller supporters. The responses given me do not reflect either a deep grievance or strong enthusiasm over anything. Harriman has done as governor. In fact, which candidate people prefer seems almost a matter of taste, of how people like their millionaires cooked. A little on the old or younger side, with more seasoning or seemingly fresher in outlook.

One Manhattan salesman summed up the prevailing feeling when he said, "They're tweedledum and tweedledee. Both are good men, philanthropic, serious and they work 16 to 18 hours a day. Neither is a playboy. I'll stick with Harriman, since I'm a Democrat."

With no sharp issues drawn between the candidates, an abrupt change in campaigning tactics could easily change the public's fancy by election day.

One other development shown in my interviews is a stiffened sense of party loyalty. In 1954 Harriman won the support of a considerable number of ordinarily Republican voters, who were intrigued by his wealth. Most of these families seem to be going for Rockefeller. At the same time, however, the recession has strengthened the sense of Democratic solidarity.

Accountants to Hear Management Speaker

Fred V. Gardner, Fred V. Gardner and Associates, Milwaukee, will be the principal speaker at the Northern Wisconsin chapter of the National Association of Accountants meeting in Manitowoc Tuesday.

Gardner's topic will be "Cost Budgets—A Tool or a Club."

The Manitowoc Shipyard has planned a plant visitation in the afternoon for members and guests.

Truman and Nixon to Hit Same Areas

Washington — (AP) — Former President Truman and Vice President Nixon will be working roughly the same territory this week while stumping for rival Democratic and Republican tickets.

A Nixon itinerary made public last night listed appearances for the vice president due here today to begin a 2-day visit while President Eisenhower headed west to begin a round of campaigning. A schedule announced by the Democratic national committee today puts Truman in New Castle, Pa., next Tuesday, Oct. 21, and in Wilmington, Del., next Wednesday. Truman then will go to Boston for rival Democratic and Republican tickets.

Advertising Taxes Illegal, Court Finds

Annapolis, Md. — (AP) — Maryland's highest court ruled Friday that Baltimore's controversial taxes on advertising are unconstitutional because they impede freedom of the press.

The court of appeals struck down two city ordinances. One imposed a 4 per cent sales tax on the purchaser of newspaper, radio, television and billboard advertising, and the other levied a 2 per cent gross receipts tax on the proceeds of such sales.

The high court said the issue involved was "one of those fundamental principles of liberty and justice which lie at the base of all of our civil and political institutions."

Monday, October 20, 1958 Appleton Post-Crescent A12 In affirming a circuit court ruling of unconstitutionality, the appellate judges ruled that the taxes were not ordinary or general, as the city claimed, but were singular in kind. The court found that 90 to 95 per cent of the tax impact was upon newspapers and radio and television stations, "businesses entitled to immunities of the first amendment of the federal constitution."

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF General Election

NOVEMBER 4, 1958

Office of County Clerk

STATE OF WISCONSIN ) OUTAGAMIE COUNTY ) SS

To the Electors of Outagamie County:

NOTICE is hereby given that an Election is to be held in the several Towns, Words, Villages, and Election Precincts in the County of Outagamie, on the 4th day of November, 1958, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, in the sample ballot below:

The following is a facsimile of the official ballot:

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

If voter wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party he shall make a cross or other mark under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked and having no other mark will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a name shall be written in or a cross mark be placed in the square at the right of the name or names of candidates in another column. If the voter does not wish to vote for all the candidates nominated by one party, he shall mark his ballot by making a cross or mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of the candidate.

The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

Burns Without Allen Tuesday Night on TV

'Pursuit' Seeks 'Playhouse 90' Rating; Bell Science Series, 'Thin Man' Return

BY JINGO
It's Burns without Allen for the first time Tuesday night on the NBC-TV channels. Gracie will watch from retirement as George makes like a theatrical producer whose office becomes cluttered with the same folks you used to find in his living room.

"Pursuit," a hour-long program debuting Wednesday night on WBAY-TV, tries for the dramatic impact of the hunt of the world's most dangerous quarry—man. CBS-TV is shoving its best and the best of the free-lance directors into the middle of a big-name star pool for this series in hopes of another nighttime sweep of ratings like that by "Playhouse 90."

Sal Mineo, Stu Erwin, Carol Lyness and Macdonald Carey star in the premiere story, "The Vengeance." It's about a detective with dedicated hatred who hounds a young man.

Next week, it's Keenan and Wynn, Ralph Meeker, Sidney Blackmer, Jackie Coogan and Linda Darnell in "Free Ride," the story of a long train ride by a detective, his prisoner and whoever is trying to kill one of them.

"Gateways to the Mind" will open the Bell system's 1958-59 science series Thursday night on the NBC-TV channels. It's the story of the senses in diagram, dialogue and animated cartoon.

Next show in the series will come Sunday, Nov. 23, when "The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays," shown originally a year ago, will be rebroadcast.

A new regular has been added to the cast of "The Thin Man," which returns Friday night on the NBC-TV channels. Pat Donahue, young comediennes and dramatic actress, land town after he takes up

Chamber Says: UW Extension Site Requires Special Study

Argument Over
Site 'Rudely
Let Down' Fox Cities

An impartial study should determine the site of a University of Wisconsin extension building, the Appleton Chamber of Commerce believes.

Walter L. Rugland, chairman of the study, said in a letter to Outagamie Supervisor Sylvester C. Esler, copies of which went to all county board members.

Esler Tuesday at the county board meeting demanded construction of an extension center in Outagamie county. No vote was taken on his demand.

A citizen's committee and special committees of the Winnebago and Outagamie county boards are advising joint financing of the estimated way.

Must Like Site After the speeches of Esler county—well and good—but if and others, the Outagamie board agreed to the cost-sharing. Winnebago county—well and ing if the site eventually se- good also (and our taxable lected is suitable to the Outa- land will not be reduced.)

The action (argument over the site) "rudely let down" the county board some years

Fox Cities community. Rugland tells Esler in the letter. "For the county board to appropriate $250,000... with the condition that the site must be in Outagamie county is very much the same as no appropriation at all," says Rugland.

Winnebago supervisors. Rugland declares, should be very pleased. The action, he says, means Outagamie county may have to go it alone, leaving Winnebago citizens to enjoy the center at no expense to them and without removal of valuable lands from the tax roll.

Not Matter of Likes "Such a center," Rugland continues, "is not a matter of likes or dislikes of one city or 31, 1887, in the town of Helveone county. Rather, it is a matter of vital interest to our entire Fox Cities area and the question of site location should be determined on the basis of convenience to the commuting students and faculty and to facilities for expansion of the physical plant."

A site of 30 acres of more seems essential, he says, since "additional lands will become very expensive as the residential community develops around such an attractive institution as a university center."

Rugland put his stand on the selection of a site in this way: "If such a study results in a decision for Outagamie county—well and good—but if it results in a site selection in board agreed to the cost-sharing. Winnebago county—well and ing if the site eventually se- good also (and our taxable lected is suitable to the Outa- land will not be reduced.)"

Mentions Airport Rugland reminds Esler that the county board some years ago ignored a referendum advising development of an airport outside the county, an action which resulted "in loss of business and industry as well as prestige to our community—to say nothing of the inconvenience to a large segment of our population using air transportation."

"Let's not let this opportunity," says Rugland, "get away from us because of concern for county lines."

Gleason Won't Be Influenced On Skenandore

Says Thomson Move
Has No Bearing on Request for Warrant

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Municipal Judge Donald W. Gleason said this morning Gov. Vernon Thomson's action in clearing Sheriff Artley Skenandore on charges of misconduct in office would have no bearing on his own decision regarding Supv. Francis Leanna's request for a warrant against the sheriff.

Judge Gleason Thursday, took under advisement Leanna's application for a warrant charging Skenandore with adultery, perjury, and accepting bribes. The judge said at that time he would make a decision on Leanna's request after "a complete and careful review of the testimony, and for determination required by law in an application of this kind."

Special Hearing Judge Gleason said the governor's action would have no bearing as to the course he would follow because Thomson's decision was based on findings of a special hearing in July and was entirely separate from Leanna's application.

"The decision as to whether to issue a warrant against the sheriff will be based entirely on merits of testimony and evidence presented in municipal court last Thursday," Judge Gleason declared.

Judge Gleason added, however, he intended to make a careful review of the text of Gov. Thomson's statement in clearing the sheriff. Sheriff Skenandore, already receiving calls of congratulations from friends and supporters, stated this morning: "My family and I are very pleased and extremely happy with the governor's decision. During the past eight months we have carried a heavy burden. I take this opportunity to express my deep gratitude to my many friends as well as persons I do not know personally for their faith and confidence in me as an individual and a public official."

Skenandore said he had not received any official, direct notification of Gov. Thomson's decision from the governor's office up to late this morning, but had heard the announcement through news sources.

Other than his brief statement Skenandore had no other comment on the case and whether he contemplates any action against his accusers.

He stated he wants to read the full report from the governor before deciding anything further.

displayed. They are nearly 16 feet high—about 2½ feet higher than usual. The extra height permits double-deck seating arrangement, or about 96 seats per car compared to the conventional 64. Length is the standard 64 feet.

The lounge attracted many visitors, Kurth indicated. It permits passengers to sit at tables on both the first and second levels, with a spacious view of the countryside. It has an attractive decorative scheme and modern furniture.

The newly-purchased passenger trains represent a $2,500,000 cash outlay for the railroad. This is the first time the railroad will use double-decks on long runs. Up to now they had been confined to suburban routes near Chicago.

The trains will start regular runs through the Fox Cities on Oct. 26, Kurth said.

Correction

Returns in the Appleton Community Fund drive have reached $50,817, or 37.3 percent of the $136,132 quota. The total was incorrect in Saturday's Post-Crescent.

Thomson Dismisses Skenandore Charges

was extremely indiscreet and used very poor judgment in accepting gifts and loans from Mrs. Sanderson," and "the sheriff was guilty of personal misconduct in being intoxicated in the city of San Francisco."

The claim of Mrs. Sanderson and Leanna that Mrs. Sanderson paid Skenandore for "protection" of her premises was the core of the complaint against the sheriff.

Skenandore admitted receiving gifts, but said money he received from the woman was a loan and had been repaid. The Sachjen findings sustained his claim.

Further Verdicts

Other findings of the commissioner were summarized as follows:

"1. There is no credible evidence that the money and gifts given by Mary Ann Sanderson were received by Sheriff Skenandore as bribes, or with the knowledge that they were intended as bribes. Acceptance of gifts and loans by the sheriff does not constitute neglect of duty or malfeasance in office.

"Mrs. Sanderson was the only witness supporting the allegation that the gifts and loans were accepted by the sheriff as a bribe. Mrs. Sanderson's testimony in this respect was impeached by her prior inconsistent statement.

"2. The sheriff, through his department, the district attorney, and the state beverage tax division, did take action in regard to prostitution at the Clipper Inn. (Mrs. Sanderson's house.) Ann Baird was arrested as a prostitute twice within four months of the time she began her practice in the Clipper Inn, and the Clipper Inn was permanently closed in June, 1938."

"3. The sheriff made no threats directly or indirectly to Mary Ann Sanderson.

Sleeping in Car

"4. Sleeping in a public place is not exemplary for a county officer, but finds that there is no evidence to support a finding that the sheriff was intoxicated during the A & W Root Beer Incident.

"5. The commissioner finds no evidence substantiating the charge that the sheriff fell asleep in a county patrol car near the Uneeda Lunch while on duty.

"6. The commissioner finds that the intoxication of Sheriff Skenandore in the city of San Francisco was unrelated to the duties of his office."

Gov. Thomson, who is empowered by law to remove public officials for cause, offered no comment of his own as he released the Sachjen findings in summary form to the public.

Not Definite

The commissioner observed that some of the allegations made against the sheriff were indefinite and did not provide a legal basis for the removal of an officer in Wisconsin.

The commissioner also wrote in his formal findings: "During the hearing there was testimony concerning other matters of a serious nature which had not been alleged in the petition.

That was evidently a reference to the recent announcement about Sachjen's consultation with the attorney general's office on the propriety of considering testimony unrelated to the original charges.)

Motives Set

The petitioners who demanded removal of the Brown county sheriff were moved by political considerations and a desire for revenge, but their actions were with probable cause under the law, said Reserve Judge Sachjen.

The finding is required in such proceedings because with a contrary finding, the state can assess the costs of the proceedings against the petitioners. In the present case the costs of about $3,000 will be borne by the state as a result of the commissioner's conclusion and the action of Gov. Thomson in sustaining them.

The petitioners were Francis Leanna, chairman of the town of Scott, and Mrs. Mary Ann Sanderson, one-time proprietor of a house of ill fame.

The commissioner's report also discussed participation in the case by Owen Monfils, the district Democratic party chairman who acted as counsel in the proceedings for Mrs. Sanderson and Leanna in their charges against the Republican sheriff.

"Mrs. Sanderson was certainly not motivated by a public-spirited desire for 'clean government,'" the commissioner said.

"Obviously if the sheriff accepted bribes, Mrs. Sanderson was equally guilty of making bribes. It also appears inconsistent that she should not take legal action to close her house of prostitution.

8 Months

"It is significant that she withheld information concerning the sheriff for nearly eight months after her last arrest. Only when approached by Mr. Monfils did she take any action.

The report noted that Leanna was an active supporter of Robert Bellisle for sheriff in the 1936 elections for sheriff, that Skenandore had defeated Bellisle, and that after Leanna's original petition for Skenandore's removal he had communicated with the 1936 Brown county political campaign manager of Thomson to influence the appointment of Bellisle as a successor to Skenandore.

"This indicates that Mr. Leanna was motivated to some extent by his desire to have Mr. Bellisle appointed sheriff of Brown county," Sachjen said.

Skenandore is a Republican, holding office for the first time. He was renominated in the recent primary election, leading the entire GOP ticket. Gov. Vernon W. Thomson is a Republican, and a candidate for reelection. Leanna is chairman of the town of Scott, and was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for assemblyman in the third Brown county district in the recent election. Skenandore's present 2-year term will end in January.

The $3,000 cost to the state includes the charges for fees and expenses of the hearing commissioner and the special state counsel chosen to act in the case, stenographic costs, and legal fees for witnesses who have returned vouchers thus far.

The total does not include the indirect costs of other state and local officials involved, or the costs of the special investigator named before the formal proceedings, whose charges were billed to Brown county earlier in the year.

Man Shoots, Wounds Wife

Estranged Husband Fires Second Shot Into Occupied Car

Grand Forks, N. D. — An estranged husband who followed his wife here from California wounded her with a shotgun blast Sunday, then fired into an occupied car in which she sought safety.

The assailant later walked into the police station and surrendered, asking officers how his wife and the children in the automobile were.

Leo Boese, 30, Ontario, Calif., was held here without charge.

His wife, Bernice, 31, a former Grand Forks resident, was reported in critical condition with lower back and arm wounds. She also had been living in Ontario.

Mrs. Boese told police she had agreed to a rendezvous at a drive-in restaurant with her husband. She said he grabbed a shotgun in the car and fired at her when she refused to go back to him. The couple has five children.

Mrs. Boese was picked up by Allan Mitchell of Fargo, N. D., who had just driven into the restaurant yard with his family to buy some pop.

"Get me away from here before he kills me," she screamed.

Boese fired another shot as the car pulled away. It tore out the rear window, scattering glass over Mrs. Boese, the Mitchells and their three young children. None was hurt by the second discharge.

Mitchell stopped at a gasoline station and called for an ambulance and the police.

Wrecked Car Starts Forest Fire, Driver Saved by Volunteers

Sheridan, Wyo. — A wrecked car started a forest fire early Sunday that attracted volunteer firefighters who rescued the injured driver Verne McKim, 27.

He lay helpless in the spreading forest fire's path. About 50 firefighters scurried to the scene. They saved McKim and controlled the blaze after it swept over 350 acres.

McKim hospitalized with a possible fractured pelvis and other injuries, said he was driving alone on U.S. Highway 14 toward Sheridan. He was thrown from the overturned car which plunged 325 feet down Steamship draw, 30 miles northwest of here and burst into flames.

Command Governor For 'Opposition' To Liquor Interests

Green Lake — Resolutions opposing the sale of beer in grocery stores and commanding Gov. Thomson for vetoing "certain bills which would have extended the influence of liquor interests" were passed unanimously at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Baptist state convention held here.

The 4-day convention closed Sunday afternoon and was attended by more than 350 delegates from 82 American Baptist convention churches.

The resolutions, presented by the Rev. K. Aart Van Dam, Neenah, as resolutions committee chairman, urged "the board of deacons in each church to campaign against the sale of beer in any local grocery store."

The delegates also went on record to commend those legislators who voted against bills which the governor vetoed and to commend the state enforcement staff "for vigorous action against local violation of liquor and gambling laws, regardless of who the violators are."

Attending were the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Humbert, Charles Kolb and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Petersen, all of Appleton; the Rev. Mr. Van Dam, David Van Dam, Charles Velte, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ekvall, Mrs. M. L. Brandsmark, T. C. Wiloughby, Russell Hill, Douglas Harper, Jacqueline and Benue Marine and Karen Bietler of Neenah and Menasha; the Rev. and Mrs. Perry Britton and Mrs. W. E. Calkins of Allenville and the Rev. Kenneth Craig of Winneconne.

Local Chairman

Mrs. Calkins served as registrations committee chairman and Velte as chairman of the constitution revision committee.

Major emphases of the convention included presentation of the Baptist jubilee advance, a 5-year program of evangelism being participated in by 19 million members of six national Baptist groups, and the Christian higher education challenge program to raise $7.5 million among American Baptists for higher education.

The Rev. Wallace Christen, Millard, was reelected president of the state convention. Also named were Dr. Dwight M. Bahr, Waukesha, first vice president; the Rev. Folke Ferre, Green Bay, vice president for Christian education; the Rev. John Ashley, Fond du Lac, vice president for evangelism; Ralph Brooks, Wausau, vice president for finance; Robert W. ## Jaycees to Sponsor 'Get Out to Vote' Drive

Plan Trophy Award To City With Best Voting Percentage

Neenah — The mayor of the city having the best vote turnout on a percentage basis at the Nov. 4 election will receive a traveling trophy from the Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Plans for a "Get Out to Vote" campaign are now being made by a committee consisting of Hans Hansman, chairman, Robert Mulrooney, Pat O'Keefe, James Smith, George Lauderbach, Richard Stadtmueller and Pat Murphy.

The JCC committee also is reminding residents to register before the Wednesday deadline if they are not already registered. Neenah residents may register Tuesday night as well as during the day at the city office and Menasha residents may register during the day at that city office.

Posters with "Vote on Nov. 4" messages will be placed on parking meters in both cities.

Neenah Leaf Pickup Set

Schedule by Wards Announced by Public Works Director

Neenah — Leaves will be picked up in Neenah starting today and continuing until the middle of November. Wayne Bryan, public works director, announced.

The leaf collector will pick up leaves each Monday and Tuesday in the Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh and Tenth wards, Wednesdays and Thursdays in the Third and Fifth wards and Fridays in the First, Eighth and Ninth wards.

The leaves should be placed in rows along the curb and not in piles, Bryan said. In case of rain or snow, the schedule will be delayed as the leaf collector cannot pick up wet leaves.

Firemen were called out three times over the weekend to extinguish leaf fires. One fire was at 7:38 p.m. Saturday at Eleventh street and Nicolet boulevard, another was at 1:55 p.m. Sunday in the 100 block on Washington avenue and the third was at 8:34 p.m. Sunday in the 400 block on Caroline street.

Deer Killed When Hit Near Winchester; Doe Found Dead in Field

Oshkosh — A deer was killed when it was struck by a car driven by Hubert Ciesielczyk, Milwaukee, when it ran in front of the auto on Highway 110, three miles west of Winchester, at 3:49 p.m. Sunday. The front of the car was damaged.

A doe was found dead by sheriff's authorities in a field near the Plummer's point road in the town of Oshkosh Saturday afternoon. An area resident called the sheriff's department to report that a deer had run by her home wounded and bleeding and was laying in the field.

Officers could find no marks on it except a gash in the leg and injuries about the mouth. Witness said they had seen it being chased by children on bicycles and on foot.

Budgeting Discussed at Farm Meeting

County Extension Economist Explains Factor Analysis

Oshkosh — A. O. Follett, extension economist in farm management, spoke on budgeting and factor analysis at the second in a series of farm management meetings at the Neenah club.

In a study of more than 1,000 farm management association records, the average total investment per farm is $36,000. The machinery investment is 40 percent of the real estate investment.

Follett spoke on the practicality of owning machines on a low acreage farm. He said that in comparing the cost of having field chopping hired to owning a machine, it would be necessary to have at least 30 acres before it would be practical to own a chopper.

Labor Income

Factors bearing on the amount of labor income would be the number or crop acres, crop value per acre, return per $100 feed used and pounds of butterfat sold. Farm management records of 824 farms in Wisconsin showed on a farm income was approximately $1,725 whereas on farms having 425 pounds of butterfat sold per cow, the labor income was about $1,300. This would be based on approximately 30 cows per herd.

A goal on the amount of feed used should be $2 return for each dollar of worth used. One of the most valuable parts of a farm record is the feed analysis.

Donald Tripp, assistant county agent, reminded the group of the next meeting Oct. 29 at the Omro vocational agricultural department. Operating agreements and transfer of property will be discussed.

Proposed County Budget 'Shocks' Neenah Mayor

$250,000 for UW Center Should Be Raised by Bonds, Bell Urges

Neenah — Mayor Chester S. Bell expressed amazement and "shock" at the proposed increase in the Winnebago county budget for next year. The increase proposed county budget for next year would mean another $3 on the Both he and Mayor R. G. Neenah tax rate, Bell mentioned. He said he thought it "inappropriate and unfair at this time to put the entire $250,000 for the University of Wisconsin extension center into the budget at this time."

That is a permanent improvement which should be funded through a bond issue over a period of years and not put upon the taxpayers to pay all of it in one year, the Neenah mayor suggested.

Income Tax Drop

Neenah's income tax return this year was less than a year ago and next year might be even more because the mills have not been doing as well as previously and one company recently laid off some employees, he continued.

The League of Wisconsin Municipalities has been encouraging city governments to proceed cautiously with their budgets because of a possible reduction in the state income tax apportionments returned to the cities.

The proposed county budget calls for a $421,000 increase in the tax levy and includes $250,000 for the extension center, $117,450 for expansion of the airport facilities, $55,000 for work at the county home and hospital and $35,000 for a child guidance center.

Richard J. Everts, 16, Oshkosh, had his license suspended for 30 days by Justice Arpin Saturday after he pleaded guilty of making an illegal right turn on Oct. 4.

United Corporation No Longer Speculation, Has Good Portfolio

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. I have $2,500 to invest. I would like to buy a slightly speculative stock in an up and coming company. I have picked United Corporation, a closed-end investment company.

This stock, I am told, sold for over $75 a share many years ago. I am also told it paid 35 cents a share in dividends in both 1956 and 1957 and the asset value of the stock has greatly increased during 1958.

Do you think that this is a worthwhile semi-speculation? It would seem that at its present price of about $8 a share it has an opportunity to greatly increase in value.

A. You have some straight facts and some fouled up information. And, in putting them together, you have jumped to the wrong conclusion.

Yes, United Corporation stock did sell at better than $75. But that was back in 1929—the year of the big stock market crash. In those days, it was one of the high-riding public utility holding companies.

Things have changed. United corporation is now a well-managed investment company. It is not the speculation it was back in the 1920s.

It holds a diversified portfolio of investment securities. These have increased in value in recent years and, as a result, the net asset value of each United corporation share has risen. But the securities United corporation holds are a rather conservative list. So, it's very doubtful that you'll see a sudden run-up in United corporation's price.

The fact is that United corporation's stock usually sells above the asset value that each share is backed up by. That can happen in the case of closed-end investment companies because the price depends on supply and demand in the market place.

The demand for United corporation can be traced to what you and most other people call its dividend. Actually, it's not a dividend.

United corporation and some other investment companies (Electric Bond and Share, Standard Shares and Abacus Fund) have held many securities of utility companies since the high price days of the 1920s. They have it's very doubtful that you'll see a sudden run-up in United corporation's price.

Sell Securities

Each year the four investment companies sell enough of those securities to establish a tax loss equal to the amount from other sources such as dividends, interest, and profits on sales of other securities.

The method varies with each investment company but the result as far as stockholders are concerned, is pretty much the same.

The investment companies have cash in hand from their regular income. When they distribute this, stockholders do not have to pay federal income tax on the distribution because these are treated as a "return of capital," not dividends.

This makes ownership of these stocks very attractive to people in the upper income tax brackets. They get tax free income and the probability that their shares will increase in value over the years.

Q. I recently made my first venture into the stock market by buying 100 shares of Industria Electrica de Mexico. I bought this stock for the sole purpose of receiving dividends, not for speculation. Now I am a bit shaky and wonder if I made a sensible investment.

A. Not if you bought it as a conservative, income-producing investment. The stock of this Mexican electrical equipment manufacturing concern has traded recently at prices that result in a good return on your money. But, when you invest in a Mexican enterprise, you deserve better than an average return. It's a speculation suited for people who can afford the risk.

Veteran Comic Plans New Broadway Show With 'Belly Laughs'

New York — Veteran Comic Lou Holtz is pondering a return to Broadway with a show geared for "belly laughs."

Holtz said that he was contemplating a revue format and would seek a supporting company of six or seven acts. The boxoffice influence of television on such entertainment is being carefully weighed first, however. Some of Holtz' friends have told him TV comedy will be a handicap, others assert the public prefers live shows.

Gebertini was charged with fraud in obtaining a hunting license, and hunting after hours. No trial date has been set.

Broadway Play Gets Speedy Revival

New York — "Look Back in Anger" is having one of the quickest revivals in show history.

Several seasons usually elapse before a drama that has run on Broadway gets a new production. But the John Osborne play, which won the critics award as the best foreign script of the 1957-58 season, was slated for off-Broadway production two weeks after ending its Broadway run.

Another company is doing the revival, while the original production goes on national tour.

Your Problems

Romance Doesn't Cease With First Signs of Creaky Bones

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I don't know how to say this so it will be printable in a family newspaper, but I'll do my best. Please make any changes you want.

I'm 71 years old and my wife is 68. We've been married 48 years and have five children and 14 grandchildren. I don't look my age and neither does my wife. We still love to dance, travel and entertain friends. I'm an affectionate person and always had a lot of romance in my soul.

My wife has turned rather cool this last year. She told me yesterday when I put my arms around her, that we are too old for that stuff and to "cut out the foolishness."

I told her I was going to write to you and she said "go ahead. Annie will be on my side." Am I wrong? Is romance just for young people? How about it?—HI HO SILVER

Dear Hi Ho Silver: Your wife is mistaken. I'm with you on this one. Age has nothing to do with romance. Why blow the whistle on Cupid just because the bones get a little creaky? It makes no sense to put a time limit on something so precious as love.

So long as physical health can keep pace with emotional drive, there's nothing foolish about being real sweethearts forever and forever.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What do you think of a father who hasn't called his own daughter by her given name since she was born? She's now 7 years of age.

The old grouch wanted to name her after his mother. I never cared for his mother or her name, so I named her after my mother. He's been mad ever since.

It wouldn't be so bad if he called her "honey" or "darling," but he doesn't call her anything. In fact I've never seen a father pay so little attention to his own child. Do you think there's something wrong with him? Upstairs, I mean? What should I do about it?—MRS. PUZZLED.

Dear Mrs. Puzzled: I wouldn't be a bit surprised if there was something wrong with him, and I do mean upstairs.

Seven years is a long time to sulk. A child needs the love and affection of both parents. When this is denied, the results can be calamitous. I hope your husband gets professional help before your daughter needs it.

DEAR ANN: My wife and I were invited to a family reunion 25 miles from our home. We accepted the invitation three weeks in advance. It was to be picnic-style, and we were told what to bring. I went with a picnic basket and a blanket. I felt this was a direct insult. What do you say?—D. H.

The day of the reunion some friends dropped in on us. I phoned the relatives and told them that we might have to bring this other couple along. The reaction was very cool. Within five minutes I received a phone call from another member of the family telling me that my wife and I were not free to bring the other couple.

We would have been glad to bring extra food for the unexpected guests. As it was, we learned later they dumped out plenty of the stuff. My wife and I feel this was a direct insult. What do you say?—D. H.

If this reunion was like most, it was for family only. You were out of line to suggest bringing outsiders who "dropped in unexpectedly." It would have been perfectly proper to have explained that you had a previous commitment. Your first loyalty should have been to the family, not the droppers.

People ought not to be victimized by whomever happens to know how to ring a doorbell.

Let Mutual Friend Do Checking

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is to be married in three weeks and I understand the invitations have been sent out, but I did not receive one. I can't understand it as she has spoken to me often of her forthcoming marriage and from what she said, I took it for granted that I was to be among the invited guests. Will you please tell me if there is anything I can do about this? I would not dream of going to the wedding without an invitation, and yet, on the other hand, if an invitation was sent, and lost, she might think it strange that I did not go to her wedding, or acknowledge the invitation.

Answer: The best thing for you to do is to have some mutual friend ask if an invitation was sent to you.

Wedding Attire

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it would be correct for a man guest to wear a sport jacket and slacks to a morning wedding? Also, would this type of dress be permissible for a dinner in a hotel to mark a class reunion?

Answer: At a wedding and also for a reunion dinner in the real country, a sport jacket and slacks would be permissible, but not if either the wedding or the dinner is in town.

Child's Sense of Drama Stimulated by Threats

BY ANGELO PATRI

"Lately our small boy, 4, has begun to threaten us—ridiculously, of course. 'I'll kill you, you old so-and-so,' 'I'll shoot you dead,' and the like silly talk. Sometimes he adds bad words such as no decent persons uses. He has never heard them at home. And he has never heard such threats either. What is to be done with him?"

Nothing much. Try laughing at him good naturedly. "My, my, here's Dennis the Menace. Sure enough. Guess we lost our nice little boy. We'll have to find another one. Maybe Georgie from Aunt Mary's." Usually by this time, especially if mother or father has been doing something interesting to attract his attention, the tantrum has evaporated.

One thing not to do is show shock or anger. This child is tense for some reason or other—fatigue, anger at the loss of a toy, annoyance at being interrupted—and, having no words to express his feeling adequately in adult terms, uses what he has.

Have No Meaning

The words do not convey to him the meaning the adult takes from them. They are explosive and his emotions are discharged in them—explosively. Accept this as an indication of his growth and development. In time it will be

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

Close penalty doubles have a definite place in bridge, and they are often more profitable, by far, than could have been expected, but there are two enormous "ifs" in this connection. A close double is obviously very bad if it provides a road-map for the declarer's play of the hand, and it is equally bad if it offers the opportunity for a redouble that is even relatively sound.

In this deal, West's double suffered from both of these glaring flaws.

North, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding, rubber bridge:

Red'ble Pass Pass Pass

East's three-club jump overcall in the suit North had bid was of course a rather desperate shutout effort, but it deserved less criticism than South's free bid of three spades. It was nothing but luck that South found his partner, not only with spade support, but a 19-point hand in high cards.

The truly rash action, however, was supplied by West, who should have known that he couldn't count on his partner for a single defensive trick—East's three-club overcall was of that character—and certainly West himself could not be sure of winning even three tricks, let alone four.

West led his singleton, and East won and wisely shifted heart jack and laid down the good ten of diamonds—and could have two trumps and South's heart queen, and after West was fixed. Whether he won in dummy, South was ruffed or discarded, South was. West had truthfully told careful to cash only one high would throw the losing heart South how to play the hand.

Pete Seeger, Sonny Terry Plan Folk Song Program

Pete Seeger, left, well-known folk song artist, and Sonny Terry, blind Negro harmonica player, will appear under the sponsorship of the student executive committee at 8:15 Wednesday p.m., in the campus gym at Lawrence college.

Informality is the keynote of Seeger's program. The audience is encouraged to participate as he strums his banjo, weaving the stories that have been handed down by generations of common folk, in every country. Folk songs used to be the only means of communication in the days before the telephone, the radio, and the telephone. It was easiest for the tellers to give the words rhythm and melody. As a story was passed on, each added his own improvements to the version.

Wandering through the Shenandoah Valley, Texas, and Missouri, Pete picked up the feelings and techniques of the farmers and sharecroppers, who had years ago used their banjos for courting and now kept them over the fireplace, to be picked up now and then for a song. Many countries are represented in Seeger's choice of songs, so that different rhythms and styles may be compared.

Seeger has been a member of the Weavers, professional entertainers, has written several books, made numerous recordings, and played in Carnegie hall, Madison Square garden, and colleges and universities throughout the country.

Sonny Terry, back from a tour of Europe, uses his harmonica for movie background music as well as for concerts. Harmonica solos such as "Harmonica Break-down" and "Fox Chase" are among his famous virtuoso pieces.

Tickets for this program are available at Bellings or at the door. Townspeople are welcome to attend.

Kenneth Byler Gives Audience Excellent Musical Experience

BY DANIEL SMITH
"Violists spend the livelong day
"In helping others on their way
The fiddle's friend the 'cello's pal—
He helps the English Horn's morale
With envy eating out his heart
For just a tiny solo part."
Lawrence McKinney
There is at least one violist in Appleton today who is no longer eating out his heart for a tiny solo part. Kenneth Byler, director of the Lawrence Symphony Orchestra and long-time violist, made a graceful transition to the viola last evening and gave a good-sized audience an uncommon musical experience through three sonatas for his alto-voiced instrument.

A sonata program such as this one, unlike a sole recital with accompaniment, places the same amount of responsibility on both musicians, for the texture of the music exploits both the solo and accompanimental possibilities of each instrument. Barbara Byler, at the piano, was an apt partner in this program. It is of prime importance that each performer know when to project and when to subordinate his own part, so that as themes are handed from one player to another, musical cohesion and a singular oneness of thought are apparent to the listener.

The Handel sonata in C major proved to be a good choice for an opener. The transparent texture of baroque music with its clarity of form, straight-forward harmonic structure and vitality in the allegro movements, captured the audience's attention immediately.

"Come, Saviour of the Heathen," number nine of the Great Eighteen chorale preludes and one of Bach's most expressive works was originally written for the organ. Although generally opposed to adaptations of this nature, I felt that this one was handled in such a way as to amply justify its existence: the satisfying musical experience which resulted being the true test of any transcription.

The Brahms sonata in E flat major with its elusive interplay of themes and the great technical demands made on both performers, was the romantic offering of the evening. Barbara Byler's ample technique and fine romantic sense were more than adequate to cope with the devastating piano part. Such technical competence and musical sensitivity at the keyboard is rare indeed.

The Sonata (1951) from the pen of the contemporary

Dutch composer Henk Badings, served as a welcome foil to the somewhat lugubrious Brahms sonata. The excellent reading given the Badings brought the program to an exciting close.
A Scriabin Prelude was the satisfying encore.

'Bizet and His World'

Author Mina Curtiss Writes Fine Biography of Composer

BY W. C. ROGERS
Associated Press Art Editor

On March 3, 1875, Bizet's "Carmen" had its premiere at the Opera-Comique in Paris. He was dead; on Oct. 25, he would have been 37 years old—these are the key dramatic dates in the life of the composer born 130 years ago this month.

There were musical relatives. Mrs. Curtiss provides a detailed roster of the influences brought to bear on him, musical and personal, in particular by his mother, before the tempery, dandyish young man had grown of age and was committed to a career of whose fullest rewards his early death cheated him.

Gounod and Fromental Halévy were his principal models—Gounod, whose "Faust" is a fixture of our operatic repertoire, and Halévy, whose "La Juive" is not; Gounod, whose sentimental and infirm character prevented him from being an ideal master for his self-righteous admirer, and Halévy, whose daughter Genevieve was Bizet's wife.

His first symphony, in C major, would owe a lot to Gounod's First Symphony in D.

Bizet won the Prix de Rome on his second try, proved a successful and popular member of artistic circles in Italy, then returned to the workaday realities of Paris.

There he had to play the piano at rehearsals, or do accompaniments or transcriptions to eke out a living while he gave his heart to the composition of songs, orchestral works, and the operas by

Johe Fillé de Perthé" and "L'Arlesienne."

But we see year after year the everlasting "Carmen." We see it too much, some opera goers think, but beyond question it was in its day an advanced work and an old venture, and Mrs. Curtiss is fortunate in having for the climax of her erudite work a popular opera that was the climax of her composer's life. ("Bizet and His World," by Mina Curtiss. Published by Knopf, $7.50).

respect. In working on her edition of the "Letters of Marcel Proust," she was intrigued most of all by his letters to Mme. Emile Strauss, who was his friend, and the inspiration for some aspects of his character, the Duchesse de Guermantes, and who was also the widow of Bizet.

Emile Strauss's niece, Mme. Sibilat, proved to have in her possession a whole cupboardful of letters to and from Bizet, never before seen by anyone but the correspondents themselves or their heirs.

And we are fortunate that this phenomenal find was made by Mrs. Curtiss, who has known wonderfully how to reconstruct Bizet's life, with accuracy, detail and scope than was possible before.

871-yard show went like this: Washington 37, Green Bay 21.

The Packers broke down where it was least expected—on defense, and the offense never was able to furnish much of a lift, at least not until the last quarter, when the Bays were running uphill.

Play Eagles

Green Bay now returns to the friendly confines of City stadium where the Philadelphia Eagles will be the guests Sunday. The Packers will be going for that elusive first league victory.

The Washingtons were playing like they either were (1) scared of losing their jobs or (2) just coming out of the woodshed . . . two players were fired last Monday after a loss and the team got the needle all week.

The aroused Redskins scored three touchdowns and two field goals the first five times they had their mitts on the ball and never punted until the score was 27-0 in the third quarter. They upped it up 34-0 before the Packers broke the ice with 21 marks in the fourth period.

2 Nullified

Washington out-touchdowned Green Bay, 4 to 3, but the Packers had two touchdowns nullified — one on a terrific Billy Howton pass catch on a holding penalty with the score 7-0 and the other on a fumble by Don McIlhenny as he

Pitt's Stautner Gets The Wrong Drug, Goes Into a Coma

Cleveland—Ernie Stautner, the Pittsburgh Steelers' big defensive tackle, came here to play football against the Cleveland Browns. Instead, he went to "sleep."

Stautner missed the entire game won by the Cleveland Browns, 27-10 Sunday, but it wasn't all his fault.

The 6-foot-2, 235 pounder was given an injection to ease pain in a bruised shoulder. The team doctor put demerol in the hypodermic instead of novocaine.

Stautner went into a deep coma and a police ambulance rushed him to a hospital. He was revived and was listed in fair condition at Cleveland Clinic hospital Sunday night.

Terror Losing Streak Grows To 3 Straight

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The fans got their money's worth here Saturday afternoon as Oshkosh High's football Indians nudged Appleton, 14-13, in a wild and wooly Fox River Valley conference thriller.

About 1,400 Appleton homecoming fans passed up the Wisconsin-Iowa game television offering and were rewarded with a wide-open heart-stopping prep hassle on a warm sunny day.

Appleton's third straight loss moved Oshkosh into a sixth place tie with the Terrors. AHS is in the midst of its longest losing streak since the 1953 season when it lost six in a row.

Terrors Knot Score

Oshkosh jumped ahead in the first quarter on a 5-yard run by Floyd Schlosser. The Terrors knotted the issue at 7-7 in the second stanza on a 15-yard John Nussbaum-to-two men right with Colclough Dick Wankey pass and Bob Henning's conversion.

Schlosser bulled over to make it 14-7 in the third period. Then Nussbaum connected with Ron Abel with 9:04 left in the game, on a 40-yard TD play and it was 14-13. Hen-

Fumbles Pave Way for Iowa Win

Bruhn Snorts at Idea That UW Put Its Game Under Wraps Too Early

BY CHUCK CAPALDO

Madison—Milt Bruhn, Wisconsin's square-jawed football coach, snorted today at suggestions that his Badgers put their game under wraps too early in Saturday's 20-9 loss to Iowa.

"They're always talking about wraps around here," he said. "That's a lot of nonsense. Maybe they want us to break out with something we haven't got."

Sidesteps Answer

This was taken as an indication that perhaps Bruhn thinks Wisconsin, ranked No. 4 nationally before its come-aroused Hawkeyes, was overrated.

He sidestepped a direct answer on this point and also declined to comment on whether Coach Forest Evashevski's Iowa team had been underrated.

"I had real respect for them all the way," he said. "Their line was stronger than I thought, but outside of that there was little difference between victory and defeat. We played well in a lot of instances and except for fumbles, we could have won."

"We just gave up the ball too much," he added.

Carleton 12, Lawrence 8.
Monmouth 20, St. Olaf 12.
Cornell 26, Grinnell 14.
Coe 22, Knox 16.

The thorniest half of the schedule behind them, the Lawrence college football Vikings today began preparations for the home stretch portion of the season—a 4-game agenda which they hope will yield some victories.

Lawrence makes its bid for victory No. 1 Saturday when it entertains Cornell at Whiting field.

The first half of the season saw the Vikings losing to the Midwest conference's "Big 3" and to Grinnell.

Stay in Contention

The latest setback came Saturday at Northfield, Minn., where the Vikes were whipped by Carleton, 42-8.

All-conference Al Schmucker scored two touchdowns and piled up 94 yards rushing to keep runner Carleton in title contention. Norm Miner, Greg Collier, Clyde Smith and Jim Miller scored one touchgarned the only Vike touchdown, on a 9-yard scamper in the second period.

The strong and "deep" Carleton team capitalized on breaks for two of its first three touchdowns and went on to score at least once in every period.

The Carls staged a 55-yard scoring march the first time they owned the ball. Schmucker went in from the 6 and also got a 2-point conversion via rushing.

Vikes Score

The third play after the next kick-off, Carleton intercepted a pass on the Vike 45. Schmucker scooted over from the 2 after his running and passing brought Carleton into scoring position.

Carleton recovered a Sculze fumble on the Lawrence 37 to set up the third score. Fullback Clyde Smith drove over from the 5 early in the second period.

Lawrence struck back on a 33-yard kickoff return by Dave Mulford and a 52-yard march from scrimmage. After Gary Scovel picked up a clutch first down on the Carleton 40, Sculze passed to Joe Lam-

Coe Defeats Knox, Stays Unbeaten

(From AP Dispatches)

Unbeaten Coe stayed in front of the pack in the Midwest conference Saturday by defeating Knox, 22-16, for the Hawks' fifth straight victory.

Carleton whipped Lawrence, 42-8, to take over undisputed second place.

In other league contests, Cornell beat Grinnell, 26-14, and Monmouth took a 20-12 victory as it defeated St. Olaf for the first time in Monmouth football history.

Monmouth made only 62 yards on the ground but completed 18 of 29 passes for 227 yards.

The Chicago Bears are fighting mad.

Favored to win the Western conference title in the National Football league, the Chicagoans today are in sole possession of second place, only a game behind first-place Baltimore.

The Bears advanced by defeating Los Angeles, 31-10, Sunday, but it was owner-coach George Halas, involved in one of the brawls that periodically broke out, who probably instilled the "get tough" attitude.

Connects With Hill

With the Rams leading, 7-0, in the first quarter, Chicago's Ed Brown hit Harlon Hill with a sideline pass and the Rams' defenders likewise hit Hill, 20-yard run around right end and shoving him out of bounds with authority.

Halas charged down the sidelines, protesting Hill's roughing up. The Rams' Don Burroughs shoved Halas near-ly off his pins. Bear guard Abe Gibson pushed Burroughs. The entire Bear squad rose en masse, but a few words from Halas quieted the situation. Apparently the incident incited the Bears to retaliate with the football.

Baltimore, meanwhile, retained the division lead, trampling defending champion Detroit, 40-14. Cleveland defeated Pittsburgh, 27-10, to remain at the head of the Eastern conference.

In other games, Chicago's Cardinals downed New York, 23-6. San Francisco edged Philadelphia, 30-24, and Washington beat Green Bay, 37-21. Los Angeles (2-2) took its 7-0 lead on a 92-yard Billy Wade-to-Del Shofner pass.

Longest scoring aerial of the season. Rookie Erich Barnes tied it, blocking a field goal try and running 41 yards with the loose ball to score. Two TD's by Willie Galimore iced it for Chicago (3-1).

The Colts (4-0) won on the arm of Johnny Unitas, who pitched a touchdown to Jim

Fox Lutheran Bows, 34 to 0

Marinette Central's Christnagel Scores Two Touchdowns

Marinette Central Catholic blanked an injury-plagued Fox Valley Lutheran High school football team, 34-0 Saturday afternoon in the Foxes' homecoming game at Goodland field.

Right half Bruce Christnagel slipped off tackle for two yards and a first quarter touchdown and 10 yards and periodically broke out, who probably instilled the "get tough" attitude.

In the third period, left half Bob Pecotte scampered around his own right end seven yards to paydirt. The winners punched over two more tallies in the final period on a 20-yard run around right end by left half Dan Szymik and a 1-yard jaunt around right end by fullback Ron Paris.

The Foxes got within the winners' 20 in the first and third quarter but then lost the ball on downs.

Fox Lutheran halfback Ron Olm was injured on the first play of the game and end Harold Bruss hurt his back in the second quarter that slowed the Fox attack.

crossed the goal line with the count 27-0.

Sam Baker kicked the field goals of 44, 38 and 23 yards and missed a fourth (from 40) for the Redskins while the Packers' Paul Hornung was way short on a field goal from the 44, with the score 7-0.

The biggest shock, Green Baywise, was the way the Redskins, and Johnny (O) Olszewski in particular, were rushing. They rolled up 292 yards on the ground and Olszewski ripped off 163 in 21 attempts to approach the Redskins record of 170 set by Andy Farkas in 1942.

Line Outcharged

The Packers' defensive line was getting outcharged and the tacklers had little or no authority in belting Redskin rushers.

Instead of going forward to meet a runner, the Packers waited and the impact often dumped over the tackler. It was so bad that tiny Quarterback Eddie LeBaron tried nine passes, completing five for 89 yards and two touchdowns.

Offensively, the Packers got sterling performances out of Howie Ferguson, who fought for 100 yards in 11 attempts, and Howton who caught five passes for 130 yards. Starting quarterback Bart Starr re-injured his ankle while driving the Packers down to the Washington 17 in the first period and Parilli finished out "Babe" completed nine of 20 pitches for a fat 297 yards and two touchdowns.

Despite all the Redskin scoring, the Packers actually appeared to have a winning drive going—against the worst of odds. To start with, the Packers handed Washington a 34-0 lead on a platter. McIlhenny fumbled on the Packers 8 and the 'Skins scored in two plays, and the defense couldn't be blamed.

Max Goes Distance

On the first play of the fourth quarter Parilli and Max McGee worked an 80-yard touchdown play with Max making a one-handed catch five yards behind the line of scrimmage and going the distance. Then, after Baker missed a field goal, Howton made a miracle catch of a 50-yard pass and then snagged one for 11 to set up Hornung's touchdown and a 34-14 score.

So, it's 34-14 with 10 minutes left—plenty of time. Hornung tried an on-side kick-off and Jim Salsbury recovered on the Redskin 28. On a third and 12 situation from the 15, Steve Meilinger, the former Redskin, dropped Parilli's pass, and Joe Scudero intercepted in the end zone and ran out to the 11. That was the play that really hurt. The Redskins, with Rudy Bukich at QB, just blasted away then—with long gains of 13, 17, 14 and 30 yards—to set up Baker's 23-yard field goal and a 37-14 count.

The Packers picked up their third TD in the last four minutes. Parilli started and finished it, with Joe Francis going in for five plays. Parilli hit Hornung for 10 and Meilinger for 15 to the Redskins 39. Francis then gained 24 yards in four rushes and then hit McGee in a "bad" spot (the hands and tummy) with a pass, which Max dropped on the Redskin 5. Parilli returned and wound up hitting with Jim Taylor on a 31-yard touchdown pass after a holding penalty on the Bays. It was Taylor's first pro touchdown.

The Bays wound up getting the ball right back, with Nate Borden running Olszewski's fumble back to the Redskin 10 on the final play of the game.

Pheasant Hunters' Success Up

State Game Biologist Finds 'Take' Slightly Better Than in '57

Madison —A— Wisconsin's pheasant season opened Saturday with hunting success slightly greater than last year, despite generally poor hunting conditions.

Al Rusch, state game biologist in the southern area, reported that on 29 public hunting grounds one bird was bagged for every 2.5 hunters.

This was a little better than last year's ratio of one bird for every 2.8 hunters.

A total of 2,055 hunters were checked Saturday. They bagged 807 pheasants.

The combination of dry weather and heavy standing corn made the hunting tough on men and dogs.

Hunting pressure was high at public hunting grounds but relatively low elsewhere.

Harold Jordahl Jr., federal aid coordinator, found only 23 cars parked by hunters along 67 miles of road, but he found 185 cars crowded at the Lima and Storr's lake public hunting grounds.

ers for 12 yards and led the advance to the 9. From there, Schulze kept the ball on the option and dashed into the end zone. Schulze passed to Pete Walch for the PAT.

Later in the period, Mulford intercepted a pass on the Carl 42. But the Vikes' try for first-down yardage failed on the 33. A 46-yard punt return by Schmucker put the Carls on the Vike 4 just before halftime, but time ran out before two plays later.

Carleton's Matt Zell blocked a Schulze punt early in the third quarter, and the hosts took over on the Lawrence 2. Miner drove in on the first play. Schmucker ran for a 2-point to make it 28-8.

Scovel carried the kickoff back 82 yards to the Carleton 45, but the Vikes were unable to keep the drive going. Near the end of the quarter, Schulze got the Vikes out of a hole with a beautiful, 70-yard quick kick to the Carleton 13.

Breaks Away

At the outset of the final period, Carleton went 47 yards to score. Schmucker got the first 12 when he broke away from a host of tacklers after apparently being trapped. Smith passed to Tom Kelly, who made a diving catch on the Vike 5. After a penalty, Collier plunged over from the 23. Dickinson kicked the extra point.

Moments later, an interception of a Mulford pass set the Carls up on the Lawrence 43. Miller culminated the drive from the 23. Dickinson's kick rounded out the scoring.

The Vikes' final scoring bid came after Mulford raced 50 yards from scrimmage on a brilliant sidelines dash. He was knocked out on the Carleton 29. A series of passes by Mike Gilbo was unsuccessful.

Vike halfback Jim Leatham suffered a sprained knee in the first period and saw no further action.

The victory—third straight over the Vikes—enabled Carleton to tie its all-time series with Lawrence at 14 decisions apiece.

Carleton touchdowns: Schmucker 2, Miner, Miller, Smith, Collier, Carleton PAT, Schmucker 2 (runs), Dickinson 2 (placements).

Lawrence touchdowns: Schulze Lawrence PAT, Schulze-Walch pass.

Coach Paul Seymour hopes this is the season of reckoning for his Syracuse Nationals in the Eastern division face of the National Basketball association.

The Nats, who finished third two years ago and were runner up to the Boston Celtics in the 1957-58 campaign, are aiming to dethrone the Celts this season. And they're off and running.

The Detroit Pistons and the Nationals inaugurated the season in a nationally-televised game in Syracuse Sunday with the Nats winning 103-94.

Appleton had numerous breaks, recovering two Indian fumbles and intercepting two of the five Oshkosh passes.

Oshkosh kept things interesting by scoring both its extra points on runs from a fake placement lineup.

And, the officials did their bit by halting play for about five minutes while they consulted their rule book in mid-field on a touchy decision.

Oshkosh Coach Harold Schumacher dashed out to assist them with any problems of interpretation.

All in all, it was quite a day.

Nussbaum fired all 25 Terror passes, 12 in the second quarter, and he was never more accurate. About half of the 13 incomplete tosses reached their target but the receivers couldn't hold on.

Klues Gains 81

Junior fullback Cal Klues had his best day as a Terror, galloping for 81 yards in 12 carries, an average of 6.7 per trip. Unfortunately, he didn't get much assistance from the other AHS backs.

The Indians, who have been hit hard by injuries, were playing without their top ball-carrier Dick Konrad, who was out with an injury. Several other Indian regulars did not play.

Fleet senior fullback Larry Schoenberger wound up the leading Oshkosh ball-carrier with 91 yards in 16 carries. He got some solid assistance from Schlosser (69 yards) and big, speedy Dale Egnoske (47 yards).

AHS tackle Bob Thomas and linebackers Joe Eich and Marv Hietpas were making their share of good defensive plays. And, end "Toby" Meredith was in the right place in the right time.

Appleton's tying touchdown came midway through the second quarter. Nussbaum hit Mike Franke for 18 yards to the Indian 15. On the next play Nussbaum found Wankey.

NU's 'Cats May Find Selves on Hot Tin Roof at Iowa Saturday

By the Associated Press

Northwestern's giddy Wildcats, battle-hardened Iowa and Ohio State's defending champions are the only undefeated Big Ten teams but things are sure to change Saturday when all three become involved in key conference games.

Northwestern is on cloud nine following its record-smashing 55-24 victory over Michigan. But the 'Cats might find themselves on a hot tin roof when they invade Iowa Saturday.

The Hawkeyes—their record blotted only by a 13-13 tie against Air Force academy—will see. They passed the ball almost as much as they ran with it (25 passes, 27 rushing plays), gaining 139 yards passing and 128 rushing.

Oshkosh launched a march midway through the third stanza which led to its final TD. Taking over on their own 30, the Indians alternated Schlosser, Egnoske and Schoenberger to eat up the 70 yards on just eight plays. Schlosser's scoring run, this time, was six yards.

Soon after, Appleton mounted the drive that lead to its second TD. Taking the ball on their own 27, the Terrors' Oshkosh Coach Harold Schumacher dashed out to assist them with any problems of interpretation.

Reedsville — Reedsville High's football Panthers remained unbeaten in Little Nine conference play Saturday with a 25-0 whitewashing of Wrightstown here.

The Panthers (5-0) met Freedom (5-1) in a big game at Freedom Friday. The two clubs are the only remaining league teams in title contention.

The scoring was in the hands of three fellows—quarterback Frank Foytick, end Rolie Zipperer and quarterback Jim Phillips — Saturday. Foytick fired a 33-yard pass to Zipperer for a TD in the first quarter and then Foytick plunged 3 yards to paydirt in the second period. It was 12-0 at halftime.

Phillips whipped a 15-yard scoring toss to Zipperer in the third period and Foytick plunged for the extra point. In the fourth stanza Phillips went in on a quarterback sneak from five yards out.

Chuters Stretch Unbeaten String To 14 Against Fond du Lac '11'

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Little Chute — Two touchdown runs by halfback Tim Tousey, one a 103-yard scamper, gave St. John a 13-0 victory over St. Mary Springs of Fond du Lac here Sunday afternoon.

The victory boosted the Dutchmen's unbeaten record to 14 straight. Their Fox Valley Catholic conference mark stands at two wins and one tie. A victory over Catholic Central at Marinette Thursday night will give the Chuters at least a share of the title.

Tousey brought the home crowd to its feet midway in the second period as he picked off a Springs fumble in the air, three yards inside his own end zone and out-raced a pair of Ledgers the length of the field.

The run is the longest in St. John history. The previous longest scoring jaunt was a 98-yard runback of an interception by Bill Hammen in 1948.

Tousey's other score came in the third quarter when he broke off tackle and went 27 yards behind some fine blocking. Tousey had set the run up with a 17-yard aerial to Don Hermensen.

After Tousey missed the first extra point try from placement he faked a kick and threw a pass to Andy Ebb for the point after the second TD.

tempting to pass. Hackbart let go of the ball. It fell into the arms of end Jeff Langston and he raced 21 yards for the touchdown that put the Hawkeyes ahead for keeps 13-9 in the third quarter.

Eight minutes earlier, Randy Duncan toted the ball over a yard out to complete a 31-yard drive ignited by halfback Kevin Furlong's fumble recovery. Duncan and Bob Jeter then teamed up in the fourth quarter on a 68-yard pass play for the final touchdown.

Salvage 3 Points

The Badgers salvaged only three points from three forays inside Iowa's 10-yard line. That came on Paul Shwaiko's field goal from the 15 following a pass interception on the game's first play from scrimmage. They got their only touchdown on a 31-yard pass from Hackbart to Ron Steiner in the second quarter.

Evashevski and Bruhn agreed that Hackbart's second fumble was the turning point.

"It was the lift we needed," said Evashevski, whose team now shares the Big Ten lead with Northwestern and Ohio State. "It broke the camel's back," said Bruhn.

One of the keys to Iowa's success was a change in rushing tactics. The Hawkeyes gained only 59 yards on the ground in the first half, but stormed back for 112 after intermission.

"We ran our backs wide in the first half," Evy said, "but we couldn't get around those ends. So we changed it a little in the second half and had our backs cut inside the tackles rather than around them. It paid off."

The visitors threatened twice. Once they drove to the fourth quarter on a 68-yard pass play for the final touchdown.

Quarterback Hermesen returned a punt 85 yards for a score which was called back because a Chuter lineman was offside. In the third period, St. John got a march underway and went to the Springs 4 where a fumble was recovered by the Ledgers.

In the fourth frame, the Dutchmen were knocking on the touchdown door again but were stopped on the 2-yard stripe, about a foot short of a first down. When the game ended, St. John was in possession on the Springs 17.

After Springs rolled up four first downs in the initial period the Chuter defense stiffened and allowed the losers only one more the rest of the game. The Fondy club punted five times compared to only once for St. John. The second time all season the Dutchmen have been forced to kick.

Mutscheller in the fourth quarter. It was the nineteenth straight game in which Unitas had tossed a TD pass. In all, Unitas passed for more than 200 yards. The Lions (0-3-1) came within a touchdown of the Colts on Yale Lary's 71-yard punt return but wilted in the last period.

Sid Gillman of the Rams became the second coach in two weeks to complain about officiating in Wrigley field.

The Rams were penalized 145 yards, 100 in the first half. Making a determined effort not to discuss the penalties, Gillman finally blurted out in the Ram dressing room:

"Your fate is in the hands of the striped shirt boys when you play in this park."

In another reference to penalties Gillman said "It happens more frequently here than any place else."

Asked to clarify his statements Gillman said "No comment. I don't want to discuss penalties anymore."

The previous week, Frankie Albert, coach of San Francisco, not only complained about officiating in Wrigley field but grumbled about Halas' antics on the sidelines.

Albert was quoted as saying end Billy Wilson caught a sideline pass in bounds and the officials at first called it an in-bounds play but changed after an argument by Halas.

Halas laughed when informed Gillman, like Albert, complained about the officiating.

"They were both losers," said Halas. "When infractions are committed, the officials have to call penalties."

Halas also brought out that while the Rams were penalized 100 yards to five for the Bears in the first half, the Bears were penalized 91 yards to 45 for Los Angeles in the second half.

Back in Los Angeles, television viewers protested the officiating.

The Cardinals continue to show improvement. It was the Cardinals' second victory in four games and put them in a 3-way tie for second place in the Eastern division.

Lamar McHan tossed a pair of touchdown passes to Gern Nagler but the Cardinals had to score 17 points in the final quarter to gain their hard-earned triumph.

Penalties or not, the Bears played tremendous ball on defense.

Rank Outsiders Surprise in 5 Major Loops

Big Grid Games
This Weekend

BY ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Five major conferences have important—if not critical—games this week.

Any or all of the six could produce winners that were pool-pooled in pre-season ratings.

Taking them in order: Big Ten—Who would have given a plugged shilling for Northwestern's chances before the call to action? Answer: No one, including Northwestern.

The Wildcats were the sad sacks of the league last year, dropping their entire schedule. Now they've done a complete about-face and are one of the dozen or so remaining undefeated major teams in the country.

Last Saturday, they laid emphatic claim to championship consideration by walloping Michigan, 55-24.

This Saturday, Northwestern meets Iowa, another title aspirant. The winner figures to fight it out with Ohio State for the title.

Southeastern—Before the season, it was all Auburn. Now the Tigers have had their 17-game winning streak snapped and they are not even the favorites for the title any more.

Georgia Tech tied them Saturday, 7-7.

The word now is Louisiana State, which has won five in a row, including a 32-7 decision over Kentucky Saturday.

Pacific Coast—Oregon appeared headed toward a second title in a row until the Ducks came a cropper, 6-0, at Washington State Saturday.

California, relegated to an also-ran spot in September upset Southern California, 14-12, to take the lead and now has a showdown battle ahead with Oregon.

Atlantic Coast—North Carolina State, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina—the big boys. Forget 'em. Look, instead, to Clemson, sporting a 4-0 conference record and with victories over North Carolina and Maryland. The Tigers meet South Carolina in a traditional game Thursday.

Southwest—Before the season, they said Southern Methodist could take it. Southern Methodist's record currently is 1-3. Likewise, they said Texas Christian probably would be right up there. TCU has been shaky, although it turned back Texas A&M, 24-8, while Rice was dropping SMU, 13-7. Texas is the only undefeated team in the conference and figures to get past Baylor this week. The Longhorns could go all the way.

Up at the top of the heap, Army, No. 1 in the country, places its 4-0 record on the line Saturday against Pitt in a game that will decide the Eastern championship. The Cadets defeated Virginia, 35-6, in their latest outing and Pitt decisioned West Virginia, 15-8.

"We're going to win all 16 games during our Japan visit. We're going to be contenders for the 1959 National League 20-15, and La Crosse's 1-0 pennant. My boys are going to an exciting last place State at least 25 home runs in 400. Pardon me, took an 8-2 Japan."

No one wants to lose even good will games," Hemus said. "We came to Japan to win every game we can."

River Falls grabbed three Eau Claire trophies in the two periods and turned each trophy into a touchdown drive.

Fullback Fred Pengraitz of La Crosse made 15 points against Stout which lost its fourth straight game.

Things Back to Normal, Montreal Regains 1st Place

By the Associated Press

Things returned to normal in the National Hockey league over the weekend. Montreal is back in first place. Detroit has become a contender and Chicago is back to its losing habit.

Montreal defeated the New York Rangers, 5-3, Sunday night after playing a 2-2 tie with the winless New Yorkers the previous evening. Detroit was the only club to win twice, beating Toronto Sunday and Chicago Saturday. Both scores were 3-1.

The Boston Bruins split their weekend games, whipping the Black Hawks, 4-1, Sunday night after bowing to the Maple Leafs, 3-2.

The Canadiens took over first place Sunday night with a third-period rally against the Rangers.

Sailor Held In Shooting

Sturgeon Bay Incident Provoked by Drinking, Police Say

Sturgeon Bay — A young sailor from Illinois was arrested here Saturday after allegedly threatening his captain and shooting at two other persons.

The youth is David M. Carroll, 19, who has been stationed here with the U. S. S. Farmington, a patrol craft escort in drydock. He pleaded innocent in county court this morning and was returned to jail under $500 bond.

Police said the youth had been drinking Saturday, buying a pint, half-pint, and a fifth of whiskey at three different places. He used an identification card of a shipmate, James Frawley, 28, in making the purchases.

At the Ace Hardware store, he bought a single shot 20-gauge shotgun and eight shells. When he returned to the ship at the Sturgeon Bay Shipbuilding and Drydock company, the gun and shells were taken from him and locked in the ship's magazine.

Carroll broke into the magazine at about 5 p. m., police were told, and got into a navy truck in the yard. Capt. George V. Pressly ordered the gate closed and Carroll at the gate closed and Carroll at the gate closed and Carroll at the gate closed.

Failing, he emerged from the truck, threatened the captain and shot at Frawley, authorities were told. He then reportedly shot at a car driven by Allan Stephany, Sturgeon Bay. The driver stopped and Carroll shot at the car again before he was disarmed, it was said.

A pellet struck Frawley in the stomach but only the skin was bruised.

Capt. Pressly said Carroll had returned to the ship Friday after having spent 30 days in the brig at Great Lakes. His trial in door county court was set for Oct. 30.

Charges GOP Policies Hurt Small Business

Independent motion picture exhibitors are typical of small businessmen suffering from Republican administration "big business" policies, Milo Singler, Democratic nominee for the Eighth District congressional post, Saturday told members of the letter carriers' union at Appleton labor hall.

"Small businessmen are being forced to the wall because the attorney general has refused to curb marketing policies and practices of the big film companies," Singler declared.

He said the government has failed to act in the face of injunctions by federal courts against discrimination and price-fixing.

Singler based his charges on a report by a motion picture exhibitors' organization which claims the attorney general has amended federal court judgments to allow large producers and distributors to discriminate in bookings—especially of big pictures—and fix prices.

Prices fall, while prices continue to rise, Singler declared.
